In Omnibus Excelsior

In All Things Excellence......the motto of Harry Ainlay High School. What a great way to describe our school's atmosphere and reputation. Titans live up to their name through hard work, and dedication, striving to achieve the highest level of excellence in their many endeavors. Through sports, music, drama productions, community service, and of course academics, Titans show they are high achievers who are always setting new standards for others to follow.

Proud to be Titans

Titans are dedicated to academics, arts, athletics and are always willing to participate in the exciting activities at Ainlay. Our Titan pride shines through our involvement in events and achievements. Being a Titan is definitely something to be proud of!

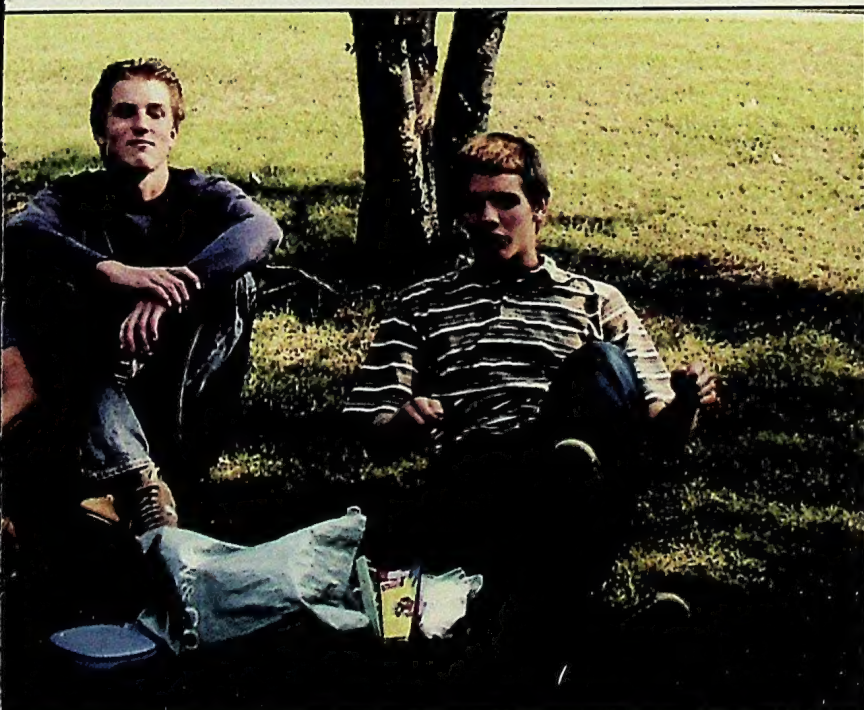

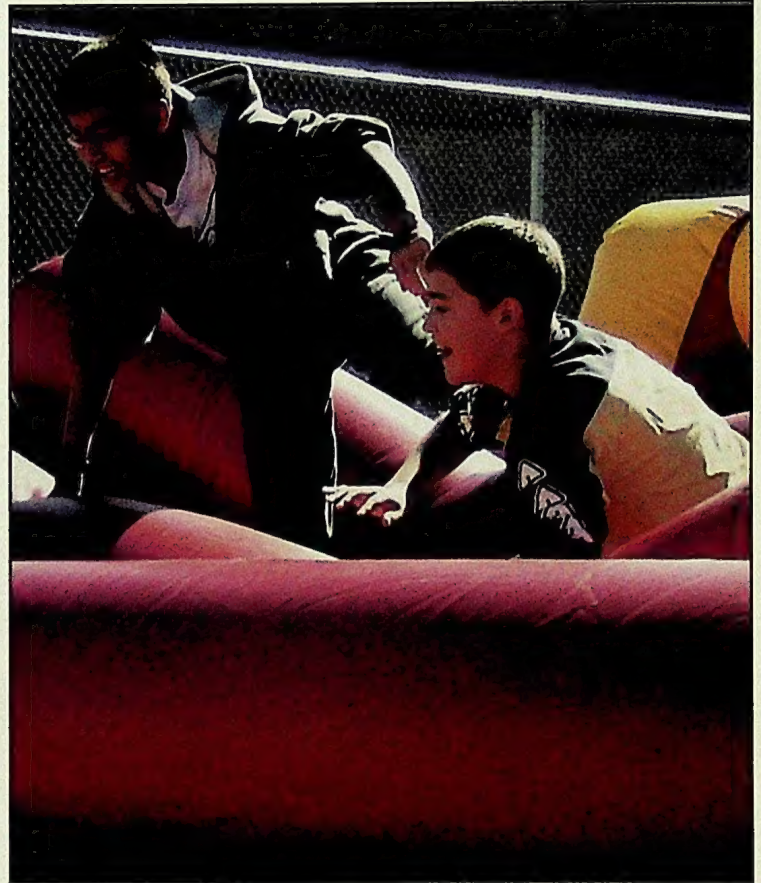

One thing is for certain: Ainlay will ALWAYS be recognized as a "dynamic" school. Students bear the title of Titan with pride in all that they do and accomplish. In any class or school event, be it Pep Rally, Halloween, Touch of Class or even for a casual day the talent of our Titan's shines through. Students are supported by the administration, teaching staff, support staff and custodians, all of whom are dedicated to providing students with memorable experiences and the best education possible. Any day of the week you will see that Ainlay really Rocks!!!!

Inside Ainlay

Student Life

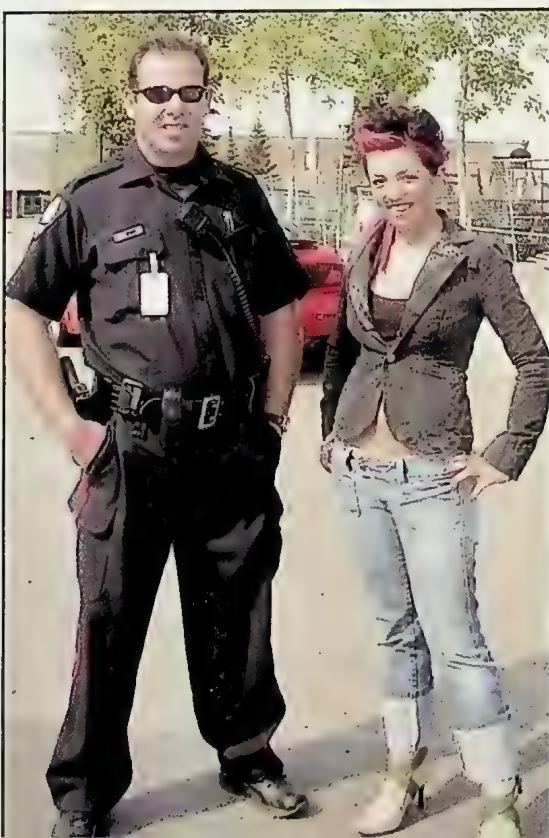

Our lives as students are filled with new adventures everyday. In class we expand our minds with chemistry, math, history and literature. In our options classes we learn languages, make cool things and play sports. Lunch hours we visit with friends, gossip, eat in the halls or at the mall, play intramural sports or attend an Ainlay event. Thursday activities in the rotunda are always fun to watch or take part in. Never a dull moment in the life of a Titan.

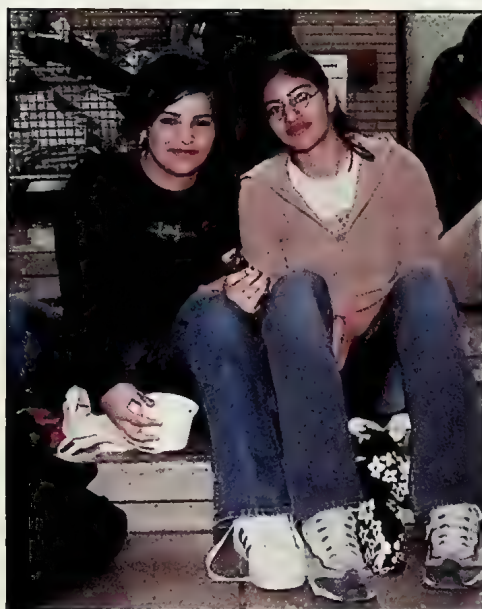

Ainlay Style

Ainlay has its own unique collection of people and styles. Hair, clothes, accessories and attitudes are the elements that we alter to create our own distinctive styles. Sooo Hot! Sooo Cool! Sooo Now!

Timeless Friendships

Friends are a vital part of our lives for they play a role in the way we act and think. Our future is partially determined by our choice of friends and their influence on us. Life would seem oddly incomplete without our friends to share our joys and sorrows. These three short years at Ainlay have been a great opportunity to meet some very wonderful people, many of whom have become close and trusted friends. Wherever we go true friendships will guide us on our lifelong journey.

Forever Titans

We spend three of the most significant years of our lives as Titans. In our hearts and minds we will always maintain our connection to our school and friends and the joys, excitement, sorrows and dreams that we shared. In future years we will cross paths with other Titans and share stories of the trials and tribulations of these days of our lives. No matter where we go or what we do we can always say "Once a Titan .. Always a Titan."

Staff

Principal's Message

As we look back on the 2003-2004 school year, we can do so with great pride in our accomplishments and look forward with anticipation to that which awaits us. Harry Ainlay is a vibrant, exciting place, and one that lives up to its motto "In Omnibus Excelsior - in all things excellence." Whether it be in the academics, in the arts, in athletics or in CTS, all of you have been involved in the daily life of this school. It has become intertwined in who you are and how you have defined yourself. One thing for certain though is "Once a Titan, always a Titan." You are part of a family of past and future Titans and with this comes a responsibility. This is a commitment to excellence and strength of character. It is a commitment to our fellow students and to ensure that collectively the proud traditions of Harry Ainlay continue.

The following pages contain memories which will be with you for your lifetime. You will reflect back on this book in years to come and will recall the friends, memories, laughter and tears, struggles and conquests. You will also look at this time as being formative in the successes all of you will achieve.

All that has happened at Harry Ainlay has left you poised for the next steps of your life. With the same enthusiasm, effort, determination and responsibility, leave no stone unturned in your pursuits.

Sincerely,

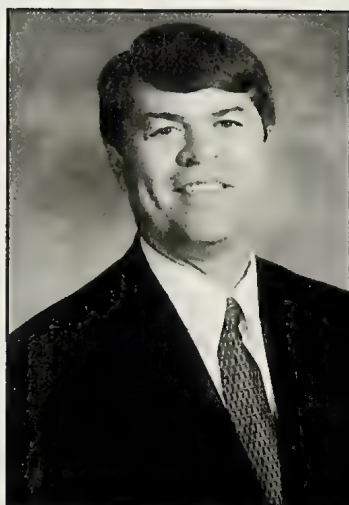

Mark Liguori

Students' Union

Who could forget events such as Touch of Class, Aloha Ainlay, and Culture Fest? This year, these and other events added a sense of community and excitement to the school. These events would not have been possible without the extraordinary group of individuals serving on your Students' Union who have worked countless hours in order to make each month unique and exciting for you! This year's theme of AI3 is very fitting as Ainlay Titans are informed, inspired, and involved. Our Students' Union not only spreads Titan pride throughout Ainlay's hallways but also the community with such events as A Walk Around the World, Food Bank, and Turkey Drive. Yet, regardless of how many events and activities the Student's union organizes, it is because of the dedication and enthusiasm of all staff and studnets at Harry Ainlay that truly makes us the wonderful school we are. Way to go Titans!

I must say these past three years at Harry Ainlay have been unbelievable. With all of the people I've met and all the experiences I've had, I'm certain I will not forget these memories anytime soon. Of all my memories in the past year, the most significant is the opportunity that I have been given to serve as this year's Student's Union President. I sincerely thank my fellow students for this opportunity and hope that you have enjoyed all the events and activities organized by the Student's Union Executive. Finally, I would like to wish all the students at Harry Ainlay the best of luck in everything you do. Once again, thanks for all the memories!

Student Activities

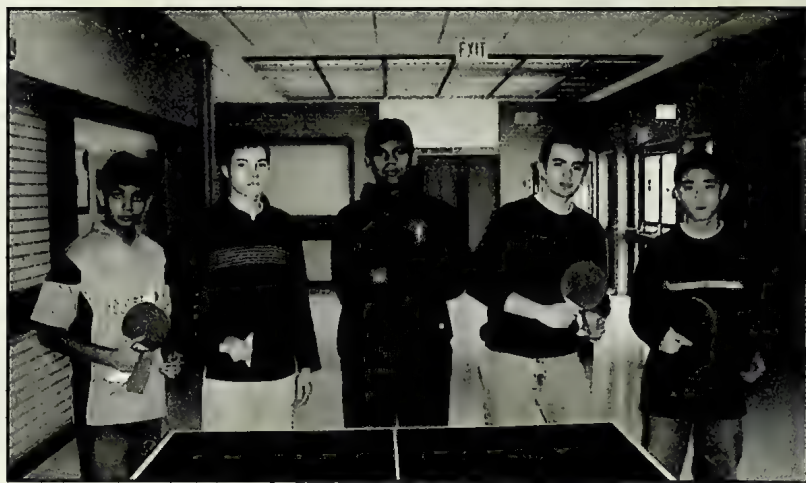

Titan spirit is contagious and we caught it big time this year with exciting activities staged by the Student Union. Ainlay rocked on Thursday lunch hours with memorable moments from Pep Rally, Balloon Popping, Mummy Wrapping, Pumpkin Carving, Halloween Costume Contest, Karaoke, Gingerbread House Making, Limbo Contest, 50's, 60's, 70's and 80's days. To keep the Titan pulse beating rapidly, we cheered and celebrated at the Titan Volleyball Tournament, Oktoberfest, Halloween, Culture Fest, A Touch of Class, Open House, CTS Week, Battle of the Bands, Aloha Ainlay, Tri-Prov Basketball Tournament and the Titan Cup Soccer Tournament. The students and staff worked together to keep our Titan spirit pumped to the maximum. There really never was a dull moment at Ainlay this year. It's a good thing we have two months off in the summer to recover and rest up for next year.

Chess & Games

The Chess and Games Club meets every lunch hour in room 171, Ms. Pombert's classroom. Numerous games are played such as Chess, Go, Magic cards, Risk, and Nintendo being the most popular. This year we hosted a chess tournament over the course of two weeks. Some impressive talent was revealed. The Games Club allows students to relax as well as improve their talent, skill, and strategy in a number of exciting games. This was a great way to spend the lunch hour!

Anime Club

Anime, pronounced ah-neemay, is basically the Japanese word for animated cartoons. Western cartoons are known to push the borders of reality and possibility. However, anime pushes the border of thought, using different situations to question personal choices. Some anime series are immature but many are contemplative.

Our club shows a variety of anime, from the amusing to the serious. Our members meet regularly once a week. We occasionally have anime writing contests and anime socials as well. Go to our website at www.ainlay.ca/tane.

Origami Club

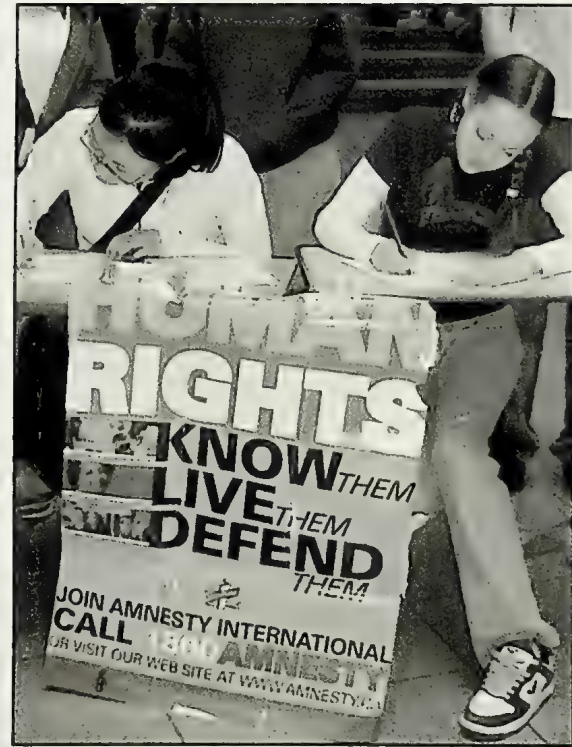

Origami is the traditional Japanese art of paper folding. On Mondays at lunchtime, members of the Origami Club met in Ms. Ito-Fedrau's room in 331 to create beautiful objects from paper. The weekly projects allow members to express their appreciation of this amazing art. Origami club provided a carefree environment where members were able to socialize, learn new designs, and share their own knowledge of origami. Most importantly, origami club was a place to have fun! During the year, projects included a variety of flowers, boxes, and animals.

Amnesty International

The Amnesty International Club is a social justice group at Ainlay. Making the school community aware of global human rights issues is our main goal. To that end, we write letters, organize campaigns and special events and set up forums for discussion. Using cases from Amnesty International, we conduct letter-writing sessions in social studies classes. On December 10, 2003, International Human Rights Day, we held a letter writing session to petition a full inquiry into the Maher Arar case. This session was widely supported by Ainlay's students and staff. Debate and discussion sessions on human rights issues (e.g. same sex marriage legislation in Canada) provided an opportunity for students to share ideas, opinions and discussion. Major events and activities such as the Amnesty benefit concert and fundraising campaigns are student led and directed. This provides a tremendous opportunity to demonstrate leadership and take responsibility and action for social justice causes. Our slogan is "it is better to light a candle than curse the darkness." Amnesty students at Ainlay take pride in doing the write thing!

Encounters With Canada

Encounters with Canada is a federal government program in which high school students from all across the country travel to Ottawa to share thoughts and ideas. The weeks are divided into sub sessions of various topics such as arts and culture, law, sports, and science and technology. Every year Ainaly sends student representatives to Ottawa to participate in this program. Registration for the program is organized in September by Mrs. Newbold.

Niki West: I met tons of interesting and wonderful people, friends I will stay in touch with for life. Not to mention the great privilege I had of seeing all the sights in Ottawa. I greatly encourage everybody to get involved with this wonderful program; you'll come away with a greater sense of what Canada is all about, plus many awesome new friends and memories.

Jeana Ridley: Encounters with Canada was an amazing opportunity to connect with youth from all over Canada. I really identified with my country and gained a deeper appreciation of what makes Canada special. An awesome experience!

Deanna Rogowsky: Each week more than 100 teens from across the nation travel to Ottawa, where they participate in Encounters with Canada, an opportunity to get to know Canada and its people first hand. Inside the Terry Fox Center, you can take a glimpse at the future of Canada. The diversity of the teens and their communities create an excellent opportunity to see what Canada is really like. Yes, for years each one of them had been given lessons on how people in Quebec spoke French, and Newfoundlanders spoke differently, but all of that was tossed out the window. Apart from the memories and new friends that are made, something more special was created on their trip. Each participant now knows what it really means to be Canadian, without identifying themselves by their province or territory, they feel a new connection to Canada.

Indira Bosire: This was an incredible opportunity to explore Canada and meet a wide range of people from all over Canada. It was a fun week filled with sessions, tours around Ottawa, and various fun activities within the Terry Fox Building. I met a lot of different people with lively imaginations and diverse cultural backgrounds. I had the best time of my life. It was an unforgettable experience.

Dawn Tran, Amanda Morie, Jeana Ridley, Kimberly Simon, Victoria Shieron, Kendra Spanton, Niki West, Javish Bali, Deanna Rogowsky and Indira Bosire travelled to Ottawa to take part in Encounters this year.

"We're everything more/than books/might mean." - E.E. Cummings

The successful first year of the Dead Poets Club has come to a close. Not to be confused with the Robin Williams movie "Dead Poets Society" or a club only for poets who are deceased, the club ran interactive poetry sessions throughout the year for its living members. During these sessions, members would bring their own poetry as well as the published work of other poets. With ample food and drink, the antics would then begin; alternately lighthearted and serious analyzing and discussing of pieces took place to reach for "deeper meaning". These are the students you want next to you in English class. Here's to another excellent year!

Hollywood History Movie Club

"I am an avid Hollywood History Movie Club (HHMC) member. We watch awesome movies made in the past and present about great events that occurred during various points in history. There are also interesting debates that occur after the movie is finished about topics of controversial importance. This is a fun and educational way to learn about how people lived and worked in history to make the world we live in today." Miki Toms.

Titans International

Titans International is a group of students that help international students adapt to Harry Ainlay and the Canadian lifestyle and culture. We meet at least once per week in the Student Activity room to plan fun and exciting events, to meet new people and help out the international students. Bonds have been formed between the Titans International members and international students and students at large. T.I. our nickname started this year with movie Thursday and continued with a Pumpkin Carving Contest, T.I. Loony Buffet, Titans International Basketball Tournament and many other activities. We make all these activities very affordable to all students that wish to participate. There was even a T.I. Open House to allow other students to join the fun. T.I. provides Ainlay students an opportunity to discover the diversity of cultures. As our slogan said: "Titans International, where Titans meet the world."

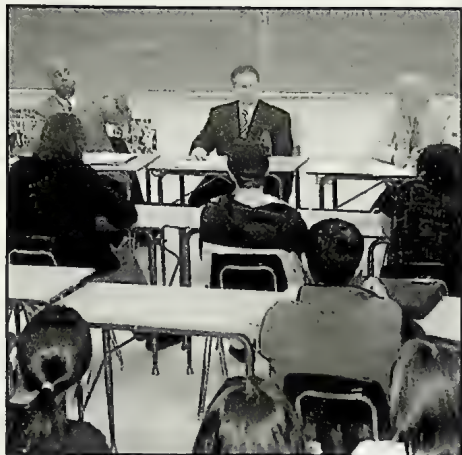

Video Team

Who makes those cool videos for TVT and Tri-Prov? Ainlay's very own Video Team! The team consists of Joses Martin, Danauven Buyer, Wayne Bowman, Devin Goodall, Scott Johnson, Niki West, Tyler Anderson, Penjani Luhanga, and Nicky Li. They video taped the events then spent countless hours editing and fine tuning the project. Through their hard work and dedication the team has produced several 'rock your socks off' productions.

Speak Out!

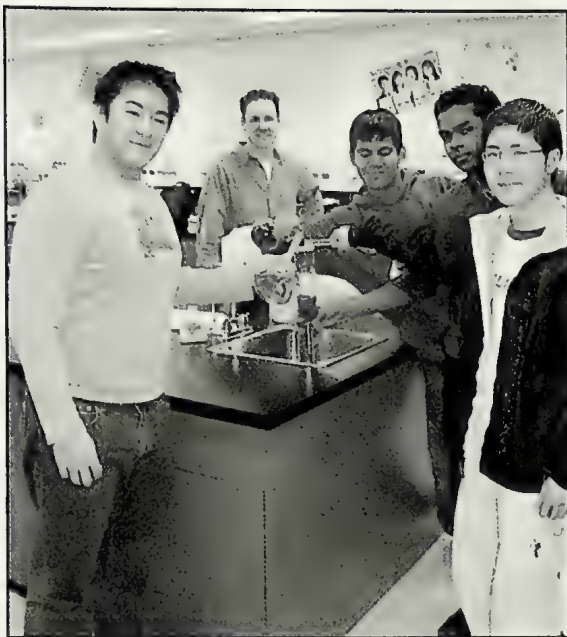

Speak Out! is Ainlay's political and social awareness club. Over the course of the year various members of both the federal and provincial parliaments have been invited to speak on subjects such as youth involvement in democracy, as well as to comment on the affairs of the day. At these forums students are able to ask the politicians hard-hitting questions such as "how are you going to put into action all of the changes that you promise?" This year Speak Out! has seen a sharp increase in the number of students attending forums, perhaps this is due to the new speaker format that has been experimented with. In this format multiple politicians, each from a different party, come together in the same forum to give their contrasting views on different issues. This year we have had the privilege of hosting Svend Robinson, Rahim Jaffer, Malcolm Azania, James Rajotte, David Kilgour, and Laurie Blakeman.

Speech and Debate

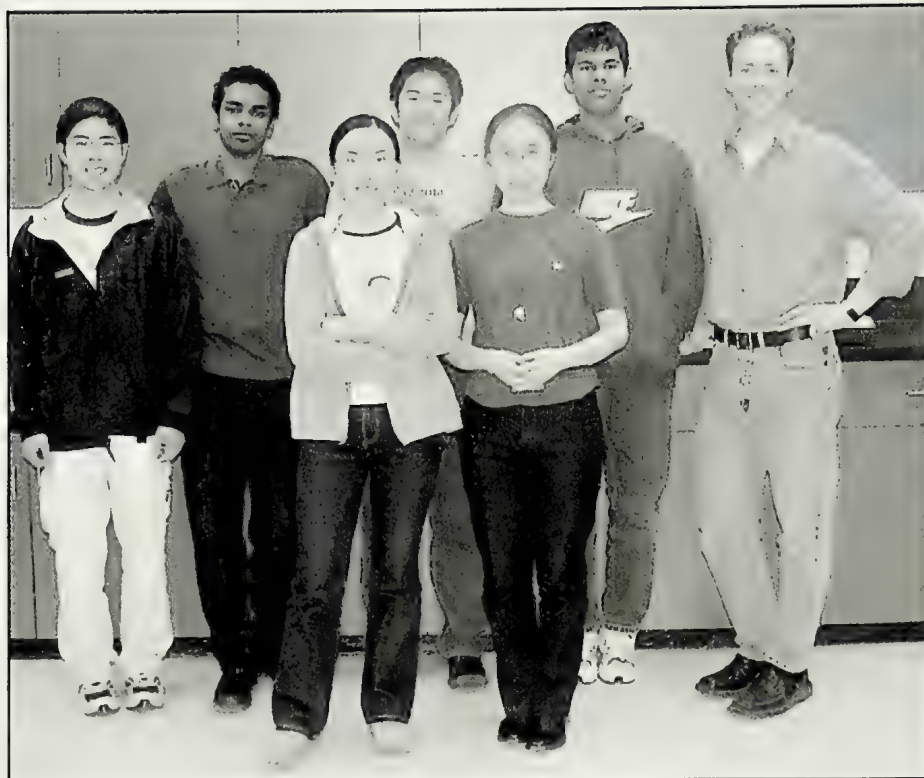

The 2003-2004 school year was an amazing one for the debate and speech club. The school made a record number of wins in the many tournaments it participated in. The team qualified for Provincials, where Maria ranked as top Northern Albertan, for which she will be competing in Winnipeg in the Canadian Debate Seminar Competition in April. Harry Ainlay will also be out in full force at the Law Day Mock Trial Competition, defending the several medals they have won in previous years. At the Northern Alberta Speech Regionals, Lydia Zyvagitseva, Graeme Armstrong, and Maria Chen participated in the Oral Interpretation of Poetry category; Maria won first place, Lydia won second. Lydia moved onto Provincials in Calgary where she admirably represented Harry Ainlay. At this year's close, we bid farewell to president Maria Chen and teacher sponsor Ms. Sarty.

Imagine sorting through owl vomit, picking out bones and reassembling them into an organism to determine what the owl ate. How about constructing a device that will hold and heat a litre of water using only human body energy to warm it up... These are just some of the challenges that our science Olympians participated in this year's Science Olympics proving once again that science is cool and the teams with the most creative brains win!

Habitat for Humanity

Habitat for Humanity club is a group of students who volunteer with Habitat to build houses for underprivileged families in Edmonton. The group fundraises during the winter and then is very active in the spring with work on home building.

Link Crew

The 2003 Link Crew Executive spent hours throughout the summer planning for a successful day, which will be remembered by the Grade 10 students, new to Harry Ainlay this year. Incoming students were personally called and invited to come and get acquainted with their school and future classmates. Ainlay's newest Titan's met in the gym, catching only a small glimpse of the size of Ainlay's 2200 students. Over 700 Grade 10 students came together for activities such as registration, school tours and "get-to-know-you" games led by Grade 11 and 12 students. Free Titan shirts were handed out to Grade 10 students who continue to wear them with pride and memories of their first Harry Ainlay experience. What an exceptional way to make our new Titans feel at home.

Ainlay Ambassadors

The 2003-2004 school year was a great one for the Ambassadors. The club, which is a student-run group dedicated to volunteerism and social activism in the school and community, were involved in two major events this year: "Carol For A Cause" and the World Vision "30 Hour Famine." "Carol For A Cause!" is a three-day caroling event to raise money for a holiday charity which was created by the Ambassadors last year. It was so successful that the group decided to make it an annual event. This year's charity of choice was Operation Christmas Child. During the 12th, 13th, and 14th of December, members, with friends, family, and staff, caroled in Twin Brooks, Aspen Gardens, and Yellowbird to raise money for a great cause. This year was another success, with more than $600 being raised, thanks to the great efforts of all students and teachers involved. The Ambassadors also held a World Vision "30 Hour Famine", in which they raised $1100. During this event, students did not eat for thirty hours to understand a little of how it feels to be without food, as many children are in underdeveloped countries. Participants each raised money, helped by community members, friends, and family members. Afterwards, on March 26th, students stayed overnight in the gym, discussing the issues of child hunger and poverty, watching movies, and chatting with friends. The next day, the Ambassadors took over the kitchens and made fantastic pancake breakfasts for all. Big thanks to Ms. Simmons, who helped with the organizing and supervising.

Wellness Centre

Powered by Kwantum Inc. for a second consecutive year, the Wellness Centre has continued to create several opportunities for students and staff to achieve their health and fitness goals. The Motivational Challenge was once again successful in motivating individuals to get active and expanded into an interschool competition with Salisbury. We made our TV debut on the Global Morning News in January and also held successful events such as "Ladies Night". This helped to increase the number of female users as well as our overall user list, which more than doubled in number this year to almost 500 members. PE classes and athletic teams also continued to take advantage of the Centre. As always, we look forward to seeing everyone in the fall!!

Smart Ask

Giovanna Baldoz, Prakash Jayaraman and Kalen Lumsden traveled in November to CBC studios in Toronto, Ontario for the annual Smart Ask tournament. 64 teams from across Canada took part in the 4-week round-robin competition. Teams were treated to a flight, hotel and meals for six days all courtesy of the CBC. It was a great opportunity to meet people from all over the country. There was even time to take in some sights and culture. To see how our Titans did, you'll have to tune in to CBC in February for the weekly show. This talented group also competed in School Reach.

Sunia

The Seminar on the United Nations and International Affairs (SUNIA) is an opportunity for students to expand their horizons and see the world in a different light. A summer conference for high school students, SUNIA is designed to create a forum for the free exchange of ideas, and to foster a better understanding of the political, economic, and social aspects of global interactions. On hand to help participants understand the intricacies of international diplomacy are representatives from the United Nations, the Canadian Department of Foreign Affairs and International Trade, and peacekeepers from the Canadian Department of National Defence.

Gay Straight Alliance

A GSA is a place where a student can go and feel safe with friends, get to know one another for who they really are and act, or dress how they choose, without fear of discrimination. A GSA is not so different from the "Stop Racism" groups that are out there, and like them, we need support to continue, to grow and to flourish. The GSA exists for people who are gay, lesbian, bisexual, trans-sexual, as well as straight: for anyone who is accepting of people, wants to get to know people for who they are, and not for who they feel that they have to pretend to be. We hope to see you next year, if we have not already seen you this year.

Aventis Biotechnology Challenge

On April 25 and 26, 2004 four teams of Harry Ainlay students put their scientific imagination and skills to the test in this annual science competition that asks high school students to design and carry out experimental research in biotechnology. The work was the culmination of their efforts that began in November, 2003 with a mentor in the field of biotechnology. This was the first year that Harry Ainlay students competed in this contest and they found it to be a great opportunity and a rewarding experience.

Titan Tradition

Once again the Titan Tradition yearbook staff has produced another wonderful book filled with images and lasting memories. Over twenty students volunteered hundreds of hours to photograph events, design pages and write stories. The yearbook members are proud of their final product and hope all Titans will enjoy this book for many years to come.

Titanic

The Titanic is Harry Ainlay's one and only newspaper, written, published, and distributed by students. This year the Titanic was led by Nancy Zhang and Lydia Zvyagintseva. The small 10 member staff of the Titanic created a comfortable and friendly atmosphere. The team was also successful in engaging the student body in reading their articles and comics. Everyone is welcome to express their opinions and contribute their creativity and energy to the Titanic while learning about the ways in which the newspaper is run.

Senior Football

It was a difficult year for the senior football team on the field, as we only managed one victory, but the players showed tremendous character and team spirit as they worked hard all year. Individual award winners included Chris Muchena as Most Valuable Player and Most Inspirational Player, Justin Rosser as Rookie of the Year, Chester Scott won the Hitter's Award and Anthony Kovacic received the award for Most Contribution with Least Recognition. Best wishes to our graduating players!

Junior Football

Our City Championship game against Parkland was the most exciting game played in Edmonton High School Football in the last 30 years. This game featured a battle to the very last few seconds with both teams enjoying the lead at different times throughout the game. Ben Folarin had scored 3 touchdowns for Ainlay in the game. With 4 SECONDS left on the clock, Ryan Dean scored a touchdown which made the score 28-27 for Parkland. We could have tried a convert to tie the game and force overtime but we chose to go for the 2 point convert. Forrest Shell ran bootleg action to the left side and hit Teague Sherman with a pass for the 2 points and we became City Champions. Ainlay had an undefeated season! Team award winners included: Ben Folarin, Teague Sherman, Ryan Dean, Mike Hargas, Steve Hnytko, Steve McPhee, Alan Feng, and Forrest Shell.

This year was a special one for the Sr. Women at Harry Ainlay. The team set a goal of winning the City Final as well as gaining a position in the Provincials. The regular season league play was nothing short of spectacular. The team went undefeated losing only two sets all year! The playoffs went smoothly and the team dropped two sets in these playoffs on their way to winning the Premier Conference City final. The Provincial Tournament in St. Albert was a huge challenge and again the ladies performed admirably. The team finished with a perfect round robin record and rolled through the playoffs of this tournament. This team accomplished the task of making it to the finals in all tournaments to win gold! This is an amazing feat! All in all it was a wonderfully successful season!

Senior Men's Volleyball

Back Row: Mr. Lerbekmo (Coach), Mark Ciesielski, Dan Smetaniuk, Thomas Makelki, Jon Goodkey, Ryan Beaudry, Craig Proudfoot

This year's Sr. Men's volleyball team had another tremendous season. With a strong core of veterans and a great group of first year players, the team was able to capture two tournament titles, University of British Columbia and Salisbury High School, and go undefeated through season play and capture its 9th straight City Championship title. The team attended the 4A Provincial tournament in Okotoks, AB, and went through round robin play undefeated. Unfortunately, the team lost a 3rd game decision to Grande Prairie which immediately ended the season. All in all, it was a good and rewarding season and one in which the returning players will never forget.

The Junior Mens' Volleyball team had a sensational season in 2003. The team was able work well together to accomplish their goals. During regular season league play the Titans finished with 13 wins and one loss – defeating the Victoria RedMen three games to none in the Premier City Championship. The Junior Men also took home the gold in Red Deer at the Lindsay Thurber Invitational, the silver in Sherwood Park at the Salisbury Sabre Tournament and a forth place finish in Calgary at Western Canada High School.

Junior Women's Volleyball

The Junior Women's Volleyball team narrowly missed going to city championships this year. The ladies started out with a first place finish in the pre-season tournament and the Western tournament. As the season progressed the ladies suffered from unlucky injuries and illnesses that never gave them a full roster. TVT became a great learning experience with a hard fought loss to Lindsay Thurber in the gold medal match. They turned around to gain sweet revenge in the Lindsay Thurber tournament final to beat Thurber in two sets. Going into the quarter-finals the ladies were the underdogs however with the ladies hard work and determination they came out on top. Sadly the ladies fell short and lost in the semi-finals. Even though the season ended on a loss it was a successful year. Thanks to all the players, coaches, fans, and parents for a wonderful season.

Golf Team

Members of the Titan's women's golf team this year were Emily Lavender, who won the Fort Saskatchewan open, Jenny McElroy who won the Salisbury Invitational and Eastglen Ravencrest Openers and Kim Reirson who participated in the spring tournaments. All three women were fine athletes and representatives of the Titan Spirit. Thanks ladies for a job well done.

The Men's team attended the Fort Saskatchewan High School Invitational Golf Tournament at Goose Hummock Golf course, but finished out of the prizes. The next week, the team entered the Edmonton Zone Play Offs and finished tied for tenth. Our top golfer was Dustin Cheong, with 82, at the Links Golf Course in Spruce Grove. In the spring, the team attended the Salisbury Invitational Golf Tournament at Cougar Creek. With a strong game from Daniel Fortier, who shot 76, the team won the tournament for the third time in four years.

Cross Country Team

The Harry Ainlay 2003 Cross Country team had another successful season. The team competed in four meets and sent 18 athletes to the City Championship. At Citys, four athletes qualified for the provincial championship in Sundry, Alberta. Warren Bohm, Jesper Wallin, Aaron Robson, and Jennifer Soderberg performed exceptionally well for Ainlay. Aaron Robson had an amazing race and was crowned the provincial champion for the third year in a row. A special thanks to Mrs. Schwartz who was awarded rookie Cross Country Coach of the Year.

The Titans had a successful competition season this year, winning their third consecutive J.Percy Page Invitational, their second consecutive City Championship and the bronze medal at Provincials. The team went on to win their third consecutive West Edmonton Mall Invitational and travelled to Anaheim, California to compete with approximately 150 teams from the United States. The Titans performed well, placing 4th in their division!

The Titan cheer team works hard all year; they practice three times per week and meet for two morning workouts per week as well. They are fit, strong and talented and were very proud to represent Harry Ainlay!!

The team would not happen without the care and dedication of the amazing coach, Kim Houle, and her wonderful assistant coaches, Chantelle Gillett, Gillian Daley-Degroot, and Caprice Chisholm.

Senior Basketball

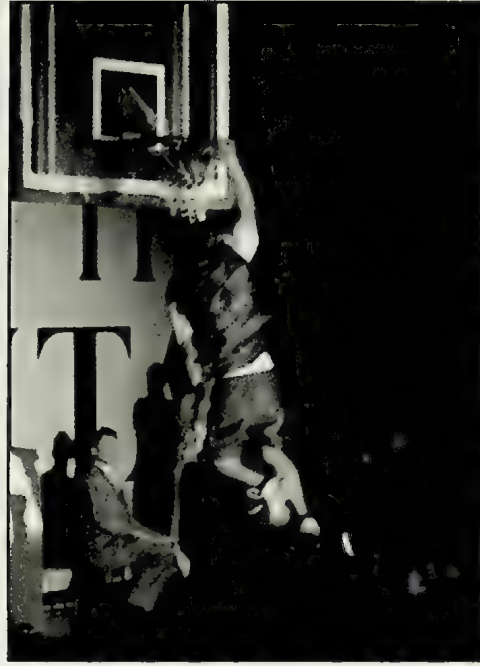

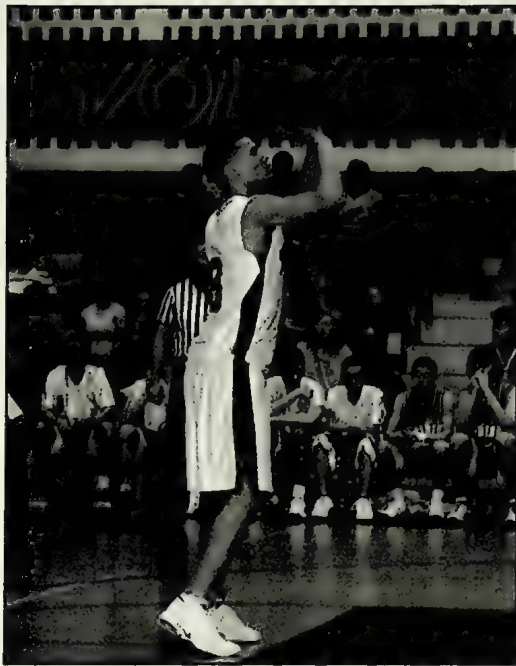

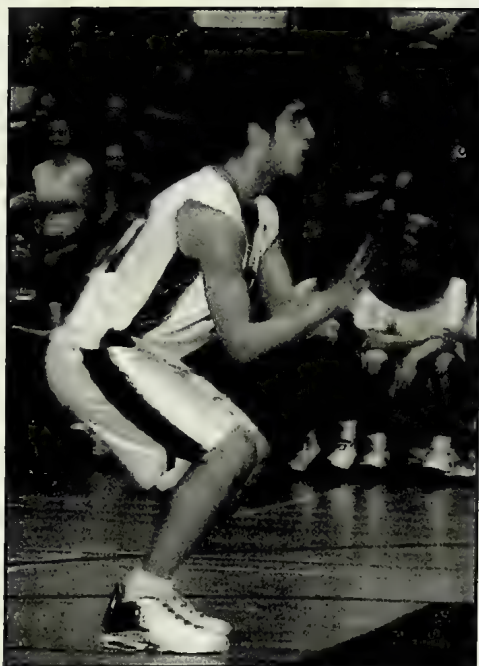

Another great season for the Harry Ainlay Senior Women's Basketball Team. This year we had 10 players returning from last year's team that won the city championship and were provincial finalists. This year's team was ranked number one in the province for most of the season, winning three tournaments and going undefeated in league play for the sixth year in a row. The team showed their exceptional character dealing with an unfortunate string of injuries and difficulties to win the Provincial Championship in a year that had one of the strongest fields of competition in women's 4-A basketball history. The team has won 2 of the last 4 Provincial finals and has been in 4 Provincial final games in a row. This year's edition of Titans kept our Titan Tradition of representing our school in the best possible way both on and off of the basketball court. Congratulations to another superb group of Titan women.

The 2003/2004 team had a great season even though only two players from last year's team returned to play. Early tournament wins at the Ross Sheppard Totem Hoop Classic, JP Reb, and St. Francis Invitational were one of the reasons the Titans were ranked the top team in the province for most of the year. An early exit in the city playoffs was disappointing for the Titans who had hoped for a better result at the conclusion of their season.

This year's Junior Men's Basketball team had another terrific season. The team was involved in 5 tournaments and finished in first place twice, including another Tri-Prov Championship. The team played top teams from around the province and were competitive in all matches this year winning 28 and losing 7. Three of those losses were to senior teams at a Vancouver tournament. The team played well down the stretch and made it to the City Finals, losing a heartbreaking 76-75 decision to Ross Sheppard. Coach Riar truly enjoyed watching the team tackle each individual's differences into the team concept.

Our 2003-2004 Junior Varsity Women's basketball team was a truly unique and special group of student-athletes. The special bond that was developed within this group allowed them to improve every single day - both individually and as a team, culminating with a well deserved win and a Gold Medal finish in the Edmonton City Championships. Posting a record of 24-5 for the year and with second and third place finishes in each of the 4 tournaments that they entered, the Junior Varsity Women's basketball team enjoyed great success! Congratulations to the Harry Ainlay Titans Junior Varsity Women's Basketball Team - 2003-2004 City Champions!

Track Team

At the Edmonton Journal Indoor Games this year the Titans indoor track team performed brilliantly. The women's 8 x 200m relay team set a new record in the preliminaries, and broke their own record in the finals with a time of 3:40.49. Next year the team will miss the likes of Chelsea, Lindsay and Jeya who were three-peat winners at the Journal Games in the 8 x 200m relay ('02,'03,'04). Warren Bohm, won the men's individual 800m and was also a member of the men's 8 x 200m relay team that won a silver medal. Alex Gaudet, also a member of the relay team was third in the individual 200m. A big thank you to all the athletes especially to all the seniors for their years of participation and dedication to the Titan indoor track program at Harry Ainlay. Thanks for the memories.

Despite the pouring rain at City Championships this year, the Titan Track and Field team had a strong showing. 39 athletes competed and 19 finished in the top two in their events, which qualified them for the provincial championships in Calgary, June 4th & 5th, 2004. Two of the 19 athletes chose not to attend the provincials but we still had excellent performances from the participants for a third place overall finish. A special thank you and continued success to some of our senior athletes who will be moving on to University programs: Chelsea Hitchen (SFU), Aaron Robson (Rice), Jeya Naicker, Lindsay Petersen, Jon Olsen, Stacy Marhofer and Ryan Wolowidnyk. Aaron Robson was outstanding at provincials setting a new 3000m record and just missing the 1500m record. Congratulations and thanks to all team members for 2004.

Soccer

Senior Men

The Sr. Men's soccer team started to gel late in the season and they managed to make it to the quarter-finals where they lost to McNally 3-2. On a positive note- Finally this year we managed to run Titan Cup which turned out to be a success after we had to fight with first day snow on the fields. Ross Shep ended up winning for the Men's and ABJ for the Women's side.

Curricular

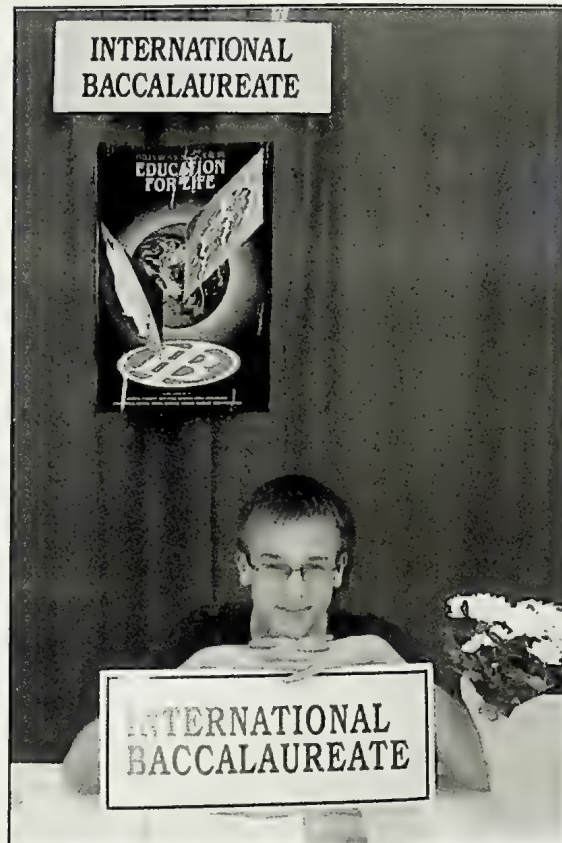

Career & Technology Studies

Ainlay has one of the largest CTS departments in the city, offering 12 different CTS programs. These classes are designed to give students an opportunity to explore the world of work represented by each of these programs. The concepts that you learn in core subjects are incorporated into practical hands on projects in the CTS classes. This year, students fixed cars, designed T-shirts, baked cakes, drafted house plans, designed web pages, to name just a few of their many activities. Upon finishing a CTS course, students are able to look back and actually see what they have learned and how this knowledge has taken shape in their finished project. Whether or not you pursue a career in one of the CTS strands you will always be able to say that you had fun learning, made some pretty cool things and also earned credits at the same time.

International Baccalaureate

The International Baccalaureate program at Harry Ainlay is one of the largest and most successful IB programs in Canada with over 550 pre-IB and IB students. International Baccalaureate is a program that challenges highly motivated students to develop critical thinking skills that will help prepare them for academic studies at University. Students who complete IB courses can earn advanced University credit and placement for the work that they have done at high school. Students value the dynamic classroom environment, individual instruction, challenging curriculum, dedicated teachers, and most of all, the opportunity to develop time-management, self-confidence, and leadership skills. Some of our IB students choose to earn the full IB Diploma by completing six rigorous courses, in addition to a 4000 word extended essay, completion of a Theory of Knowledge course, and at least 150 CAS (Community, Action, Service) hours in grade 11 and 12. This helps to create students that are well rounded and who can engage themselves in the world beyond the textbook. IB students are service-minded students that often take up important causes like our school's anti-landmines initiative, which raised money to help clear landmines and help the victims of landmines. High academic achievement, along with service to the community, has helped many of our IB students to earn scholarships for post-secondary study. To date 623 Harry Ainlay students have graduated with the full IB diploma since our first IB class graduated in 1984, and 52 more students are attempting to join their ranks this year. In addition, this year over 100 partial IB students will write IB certificates in at least one of our courses which include: English, History, Japanese, German, French, Math, Biology, Chemistry, Physics, Art, Theatre Arts, and Music.

Core Subjects

The core academic subjects include English, Math, Science and Social Studies. Each of these 5 credit core subjects challenges us to think and be creative in many different ways. In math we may be able to approach a problem in several ways and arrive at the same correct answer. In social studies we may look at a social issue and realize there are 100's of possible solutions, no correct final answer and unlikely everyone would even agree on a solution. As we moved from class to class our brains shifted thinking gears from logical to spatial to abstract reasoning to moments of sheer genius. In our core subjects we pondered, pontificated, calculated, measured, explored, studied, wrote and rewrote. Our reward is that we have a solid core of knowledge that will always be with us and will eventually be used to earn our living.

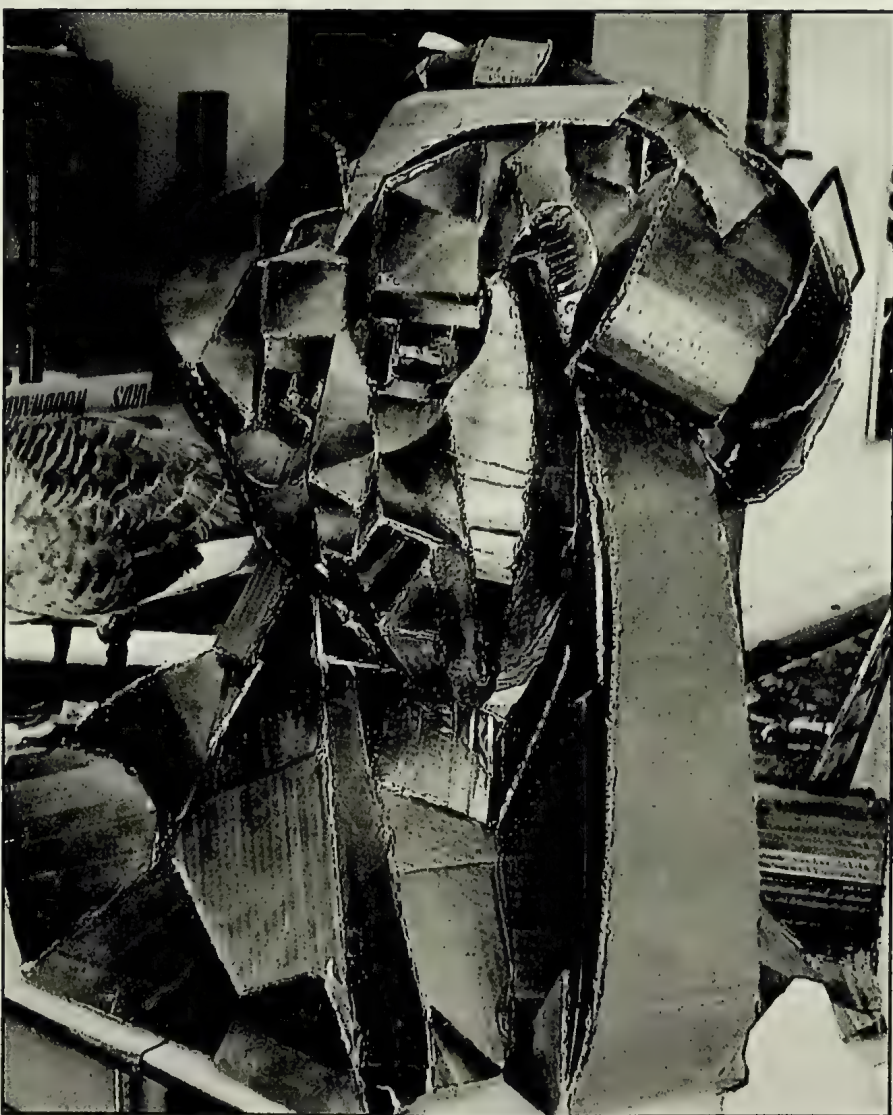

Second Languages

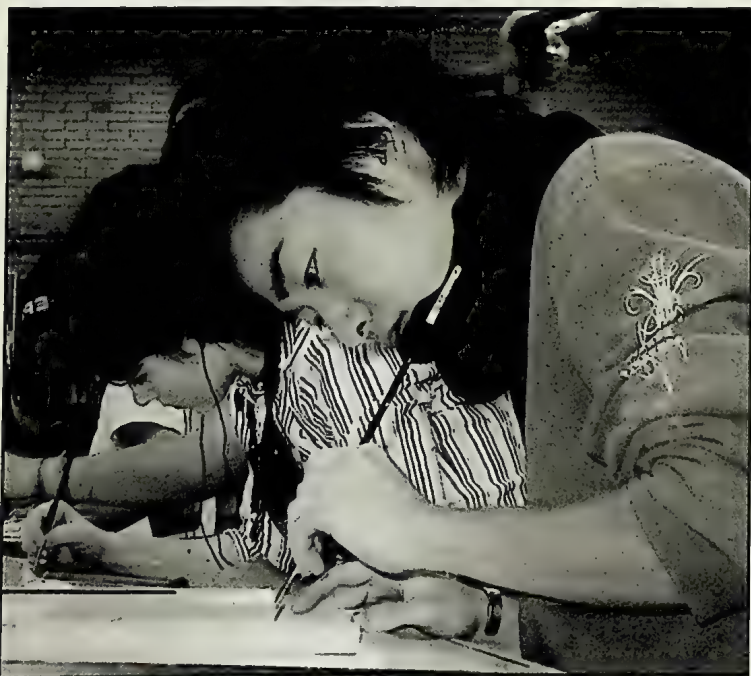

The Second Languages department at Ainlay offers instruction in French, Japanese, German and Spanish. Through these courses students increase their intellectual capacity as well as their cultural intelligence. Students learn the spoken language, written language, customs and history of the language group they are studying. Learning a second language helps us to understand how other linguistic groups see the world, interpret the world and interact with the world. It is also very cool to be able to go to another country on holidays and converse with the residents in their own language. Hasta La Vista, Baby!

Art Program

Engagement in the arts promotes a sense of identity and makes a unique contribution to the development of each student. Study of the Visual Arts provides students with the opportunity to develop a critical and intensely personal view of themselves in relation to the world.

Music

Early in the fall, the music department held its annual music camp at Camp Nakamun. It proved to be a great experience as 200 students rehearsed and attended master classes and concerts. Spare time was filled with a variety of recreational activities. The students returned to school with a renewed vitality and interest in music.

This was another excellent year for the music department as we received Gold awards and Superior marks at numerous festivals throughout the year. Symphonic Band was again awarded the Most Outstanding High School Band in The Alberta International Band Festival.

The 23rd annual Big Band Bash was held in February to a sell-out crowd who enjoyed a buffet dinner and dancing to the sounds of the Harry Ainlay Stage Bands and Jazz Choir.

This year the music department toured with four busloads of students to Abbotsford, B.C. and Seattle, Washington. Concert Band, Concert Choir, "A" Stage Band and Symphonic Band participated in two festivals during tour and represented our school superbly. Five days of early mornings and late nights made for some very tired students, but everyone returned to Ainlay safe and sound and ready for the final term of school.

May was a busy month as students traveled to Red Deer twice to participate in the ABA Festival of Bands and performed at the school's convocation ceremony. The Concert Band, Symphonic Band and Concert Choir finished their year in style by performing at the Winspear in our annual Winds at the Winspear Concert and the final Jazz Coffee House concert was held on June 2nd. The Titan tradition of excellence is alive and well in the Harry Ainlay Music Department!

Events

TVT 2003- Unleash The Fury

TVT 2003 was a great success! Opening ceremonies were amazing, featuring break dancers, an inspirational singer, our senior women's team doing a dance, along with the senior men who preformed a cheerleading skit. The gym was very loud and full of excitement. This year, the competition included two teams from Norway. Our senior women finished 1st in an exciting final, while the senior men finished 4th in a tough bronze medal match against the Norwegians. Thank you to all of our volunteers who made this year's tournament so special!

OktoberFest

O zapft 's! Our second annual Oktoberfest on Oktober 2nd, 2003 was an even bigger hit than the first, thanks to the many student and staff volunteers. The rotunda was again transformed into the Theresienwiese through the festive and beautiful decorations. The festival was highlighted by the fashion show of ethnic and more modern clothing and the energetic dances of the Bavarian Schuhplattler. Audience members had their fun through the pretzel-eating contests, and the new baby bottle root beer drinking contest provided much entertainment. We were glad to see many members of the community taking part in the festivities and we were especially pleased with the attendance and participation of students and staff of Rideau Park elementary school. Auf geht's bis zum naechsten Jahr!

Culture Fest

March 1st to the 5th was Ainlay's chance to showcase the school's diverse multicultural make-up. Students packed into the rotunda to watch performances by musicians, dancers, and singers, who took us on a cultural trip around the world. Students proudly shared their own culture and learned about the music, costumes, and customs of many other cultures. Highlights of the week included a fabulous cultural fashion show, delicious ethnic foods, music, dance, and performances. Culture Fest reinforces the fact that Canadians are proud of their multicultural nation.

Touch of Class

This year's Touch of Class theme was "Once Upon A Time." The Decorations Committee transformed the rotunda into a magical medieval village complete with a castle they had created. As per tradition, as students entered the school in the morning they were offered candy and each young lady was given a carnation. The school's talented musicians filled the halls and the rotunda with their melodical sounds. Nearly every staff and student wore their finest outfits raising Ainlay's sophistication level to the top of the scale.

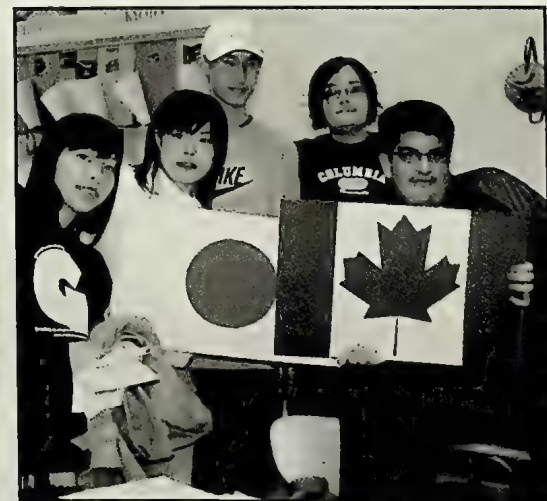

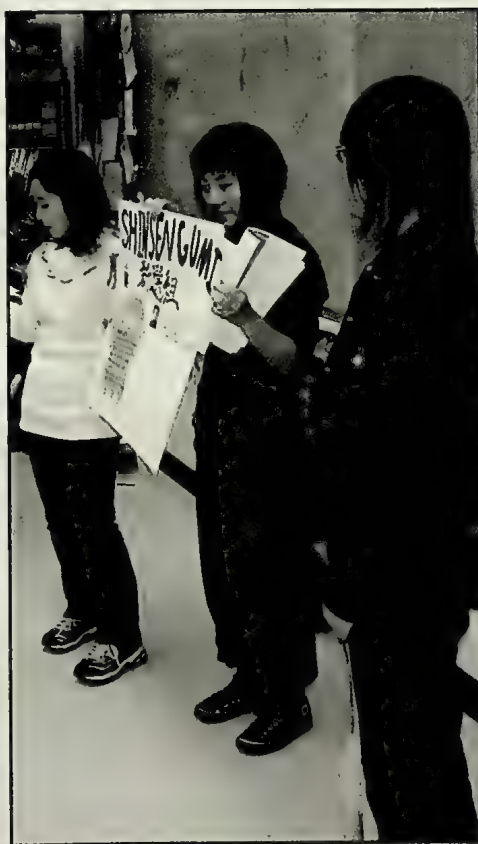

Open House

On March 4th, Ainlay opened its doors to the community to share all the wonderful and remarkable learning experiences that happen within our school. A thousand parents and prospective students toured the school, viewing the programs and asking questions. Our students played music, conducted experiments, baked cookies and acted in plays. Ainlay shared its Titan Spirit with all participants.

Yamate Exchange

Harry Ainlay hosted 19 Japanese Yamate High School Students from April 9 to 23, 2004. They attended Ainlay for 2 weeks and had a wonderful cultural exchange with us. They introduced aspects of Japanese culture through their group presentations to our students in Japanese classes.

CTS Week

During the week of March 15th to the 19th Ainlay celebrated CTS week. The CTS department at our school is one of the largest in the city offering 12 different career strands to choose from. Students from Cosmetology treated students to personal manicures and nail art. Computer studies took us deep inside the heart of a computer as they popped the lid on a machine for all to take a closer look. Fashion students added the "whirring" sound of sewing machines as they sewed some very fancy pillows. To fend off our hunger the foods students decorated cookies with interesting designs. Communication Technology students projected CTS, Tri-Prov, and TVT videos for our entertainment. The Construction program sponsored a spark and splinter filled nail driving contest for staff and students. Keeping the momentum going the Automotives program moved a car into the rotunda for a pit crew tire changing contest. Wrenches and nuts were flying as teams raced against the clock to rotate the four tires. Wow! Very cool week.

Frankfurt Exchange

Recipe for an amazing school trip: obtain 14 Harry Ainlay students, pair them up with 14 Germans from the Helmholtzschule, add 4 teachers, tickets to Edmonton and Frankfurt...and let the good times roll! Surely they did. The Frankfurt 2003-2004 Exchange was truly a blast!

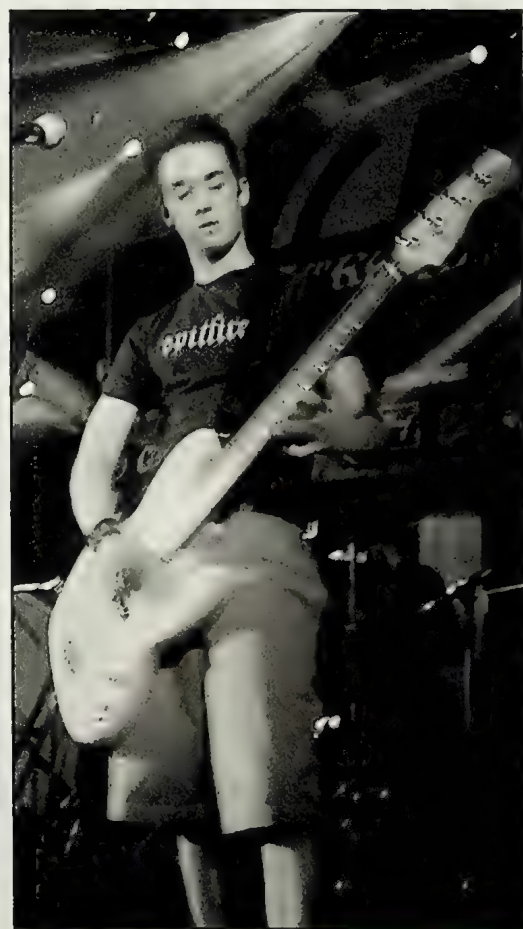

It began in October with the arrival of the German Group in Edmonton. During their stay here they got to experience the Canadian way of life hands on through activities such as the Thanksgiving dinner with their host families, an Edmonton city rally, and a Rocky Mountain Adventure to Banff.

Later in March, we, the Canadians, got to visit Germany, and learn about their lifestyle and culture. Highlights of our trip were: the visit to Helmholtzschule, following our partners to classes; the Frankfurt Römer, Saalburg and Hessenpark; the car factory Opel; the Frankfurt rally; the Berlin trip including visits to the Reichstag, the Brandenburg Gate, the Berlin Dom, the castles at Potsdam, etc.; and lastly our very memorable farewell dinner.

Good times indeed! Not only did we get to experience German culture, we had a ton of fun and formed friendships with the students there. The exchange was a great enrichment opportunity!

Battle of the Bands

In our 11th edition of Battle of the Bands we had over 250 fabulous fans cheering on and voting for their favorite band. Geoff Johnson, Spencer Murray, Adam Dearden, and Phil Colmer of Tin Foil Antenna won the opportunity to Play At Red's in the Edmonton Area Finals. The fans favored Punk over Hard Rock, Heavy Metal, Folk, and Roots and Blues on this night although the voting was closer than previous years. Last Time Around and Vintage were tied for second with The Dilemma Funk one vote back in fourth.

Skills Canada

Skills Canada is a competition held at both provincial and national levels, for students engaged in trades related education. Competitors come from secondary and post secondary institutions. This year Harry Ainlay entered 10 competitors in eight different competition areas, and sent 38 delegates to the Young Women and the Trades seminar that accompanied the competition. At the end of two very long days, leaving school before 6 am, and getting back to school around 6 pm, Harry Ainlay had two winners in the Safety category, Carin Broome and Arvid Reiser, for Intermediate Hairstyling and Job Skill Demonstration, respectively.

Halloween

Titans went through a metamorphosis from normally attired students to costumed posers. Witches, ghosts, and goblins mingled with The Hulk, Kiss Band members, Ninja turtles, and an assortment of other unusual beings. Scary but FUN!!!

Aloha Ainlay

Using their "Magic School Bus" imaginations, Ainlay's hang loose students transported themselves from a cold January day to the soft warm breezes of Hawaii. The rotunda was our beach, alive with students seeing how low they could go under the limbo pole. The Tiki bar provided a cool refreshment from the hot atmosphere we created.

Tri-Prov '04

Tri-Prov celebrated its 30th anniversary hosting 16 teams from all over Western Canada. Tri-Prov 2004 kicked off with our junior tournament. Ainlay's Junior Women's team played a tough game coming in second, and once again our Junior Men captured gold. The Executive worked hard to put on an outstanding opening ceremonies with excellent performances by student entertainers. The Ainlay Senior Womens' team continued their winning streak, capturing the title of Tri-Prov Champions for the second year in a row. The Senior Men fought a hard battle to win the silver medal, breaking their 7-year winning streak.

IB New York Trip

Spring Break in the Big Apple was amazing! Titans strolled through Central Park, spent evenings at Broadway shows, and saw the New York skyline from the top of the Empire State Building! We also visited the Metropolitan Museum and Guggenheim Museums which were awesome. The artwork and displays were beautiful. We loved New York, and everyone would agree that the New York trip was wonderful!

Le Gala Francais

On Thursday, April 22, 2004, fourteen hundred Edmonton Public School students, parents and teachers, along with fifty volunteer judges, participated in the Gala Français 2004 hosted by Harry Ainlay High School. This event is an annual local public speaking competition and showcase providing an opportunity for students in the various French programs at all grade levels to demonstrate and celebrate their great talents in French. A highlight of this year's event was the guest speaker, Lieutenant-Governor Lois Hole and her words of encouragement for French second language learning in all schools in the province of Alberta.

Blood Donor Clinic

The Blood Donor Clinic is an annual event at Ainlay. Over 70 staff and students donated blood on March 9th of this year. Approximately 98 units of blood were taken by registered nurses from Canadian Blood Services. Door prizes were won by students who participated in the Blood Donor Clinic quiz. Thanks to all student volunteers and all blood donors. Hopefully many of these participants will become life-time blood donors.

Graduation

A black and white photograph of a large group of graduates and their families. The graduates are in the front row, wearing caps and gowns. Behind them are several rows of family members in formal attire. The word "Graduation" is written in a large, cursive font at the top right.

Grad Fashion Show

This year's Grad Fashion Show and Gala was a huge success. A small army of volunteers dedicated hundreds of hours taking care of every little detail that created a spectacular evening. Forty models strutted the catwalk in today's hottest formal and casual wear. The women looked glamorous in their high fashion evening gowns supplied by Southgate Shopping Centre. The men looked very sharp in their tuxedos from Dirks Men's Wear. During the intermission, volunteers served 130 guests an assortment of pastries, tea and coffee. Everyone that attended went away with a giant smile on their face.

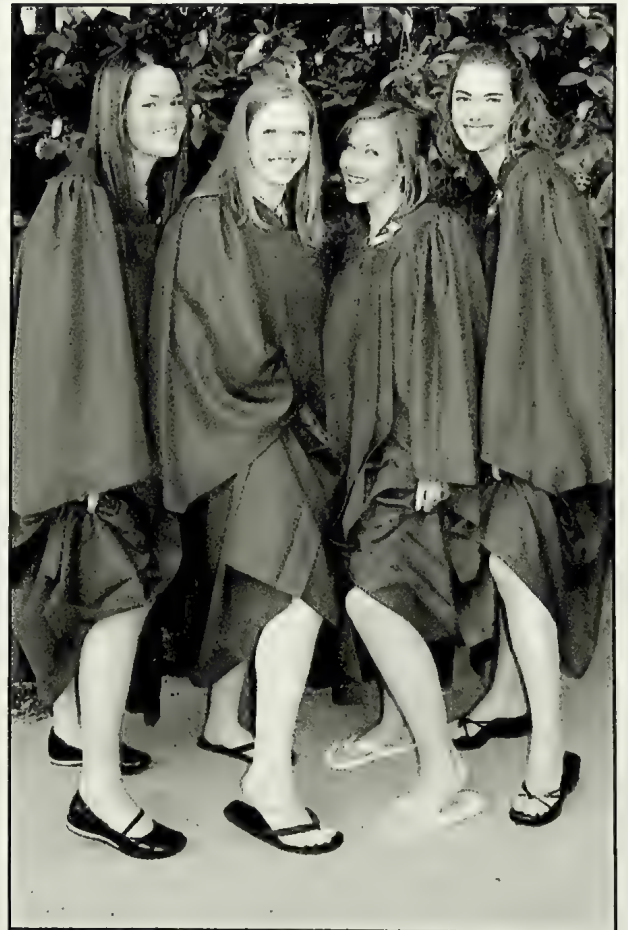

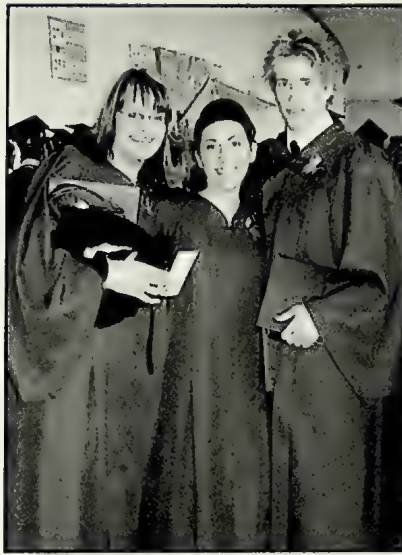

Graduation Commencement

Commencement and Awards Night on May 29th was an exhilarating evening that highlighted the many accomplishments of the "Class of 2004." Graduands, guests and staff gathered at the Jubilee Auditorium to honour and congratulate the Senior Class of 2004. On this special night we realized we were "Taking Our Memories and Creating a Legacy". As we move on to create our new futures, our years at Ainlay will live on in our hearts and minds. Thanks to everyone for making this time so special.

Graduation Banquet

Preparations for the big night began months in advance and were well worth it. The Banquet on May 22nd was a day I'm sure all of the graduands will remember for the rest of their lives. After all the rushing around to early morning hair and makeup appointments, picking up tuxes, corsages and boutonnieres, everyone came together at the Shaw and looked absolutely stunning! The program began with Laura Duncan, our Graduation President, who welcomed all the graduands, their parents, relatives and friends. Andrew Gibb gave the Toast to the Parents, which was a heartfelt reminder to the graduands and thank-you to all of our parents for their support that has helped get us to where we are today. Mrs. Gibb followed her son with a reply, which was certainly meaningful to everyone in attendance. The toast to the staff was given by Johnny Mak, the Students' Union President, who thanked the staff members for their devotion to helping us succeed over the last three years. Mr. Liguori responded to this toast, encouraging and reminding us that we are "Mighty, Mighty Titans" and we can do anything we put our minds to. Aanchal Bhatia gave an impressive blessing before we enjoyed dinner.

After dinner, we were all delighted with Shannon Williams' performance of "Please Remember" and Kemi Adeodu's speech of "Our Legacy" reminding us of how far we have come as we move on to the next stage of our lives. The Class of 2004 donated $500 to the YMCA's Strong Kids Campaign and $602 to Cops for Cancer as their gifts to the community and to the school, a beautiful Plexiglass podium. Ms. Baker was the final person to be recognized for all of her hard work and dedication to making grad a success.

The night ended with a dance. Parents and students danced under the sparkling lights and balloons, one of the last times the entire graduating class would all be together. Thanks again to all the staff advisors, parents, performers and toasters who helped make the Banquet such a wonderful night. It will definitely be a night to remember as we Take Our Memories and Create a Legacy.

Throughout the years, we've gathered together life's lessons and fun filled adventures compiling them into records both written and unwritten. Collectively they form our memories. These memories and experiences form the basis of our character... they define who we are! We've worked tirelessly to get to this point in our lives: to this, our Graduation. We have dedicated our school years to gaining knowledge and understanding of life; from things as basic as learning our ABC's, and how to tie up our shoe laces, to solving higher order stoichiometric problems and writing essays and short stories. We did all these things while forming the friendships we hold important to us. We have all grown as individuals, in so many ways and I believe and hope we have succeeded in what we first desired to achieve.

Ultimately each of us have had to push ourselves at one time or another, towards success in achieving our goals. It has not been, however, without help from our family, friends, and teachers. These are the people, in their own unique ways, who have guided us through the different challenges and situations life has brought our way both at home and at school. We would not have become who we are today without their patience, guidance, support and understanding. None of us are graduating as the same person we once were, nor have we compiled the exact same memories and experiences; we do however, all share a similar past and that is our time spent at Harry Ainlay. We are all Titans! We can now go out into the real world and make our marks relying on these unique collections of memories and experiences.

I believe Marianne Williamson describes best what we should all strive for, and I quote: "Our deepest fear is not that we are inadequate. Our deepest fear is that we are powerful beyond measure. It is our light not our darkness, that most frightens us. We ask ourselves, Who am I to be brilliant, gorgeous, talented and fabulous? Actually, who are you not to be?... Your playing small does not serve the world. There's nothing enlightened about shrinking so that other people won't feel secure around you... It is not just in some of us; it is in everyone. And as we let our own light shine, we unconsciously give other people permission to do the same..."

I believe therefore, we should to go out into the world not just to live in it and take from it, but give back and make a difference in the world, whatever that difference may be. Whether that difference is founding a charitable organization or simply smiling at a stranger, we can all have positive influences in the places we go and in the lives we touch.

If we lead with action, people will follow our example, and thus we can each create our own legacy. Don't stand aside and hope by chance that you will do something worthwhile with your life... take charge, step forward and show the world what you're made of. Even the smallest actions count in making the world a better place. Together, we can use the knowledge and experiences from our past to create a powerful legacy we will call our own.

I hope your experiences at Harry Ainlay will serve you well, and in time you may look back... and remember...

Thank you!

Principal: Mr. Liguori

Good Evening ladies and gentlemen, honoured guests, families and members of the senior class. You are part of an ending — the end of a crucial period in your lives. You have sat in classrooms almost every day for the past three years; you have seemingly given your undivided attention to your teachers; but what have you actually learned? As Woodrow Wilson, 28th President of the United States once said, “An education does not give you the answers, it tells you how to find the answers.” What answers have you as individuals found during these past few years?

Education and the learning process do not share the same meaning. Unfortunately, many students play the game, get the appropriate grades and number of credits and are gone. Graduated, but not forgotten as all of you have formed impressions upon us. For some, there is very little real meaning to the education they have experienced in high school. Our grading system is not perfect, just as our school system, nor any for that matter, is not perfect. Often the actual grade received by the student is not the true picture of the performance of that particular student or of the knowledge he or she has acquired. Nor does it take into account personality, individuality or the life that each of you breathes into our school. There are many, many reasons for this fact, too many to go into at this particular time — some reasons we can solve and some that we cannot.

However, the point is that the student is actually cheating himself, as well as society as a whole in the long term. We have an “education”: that slip of paper; but, we have not learned. We will be able to live but unable to function fully in the outside world. Giving of yourself only halfway or not at all surely cannot go on nor be a goal any of you have strived for.

You are creative, you are concerned, you are dedicated, but have you given completely in your creativity, your concern and your dedication? Perhaps you are capable of reciting facts and figures, but are you capable of understanding the relation between those facts and the world and are you capable of expressing those ideas and understandings?

Self-discovery is a beautiful thing. Unfortunately, it has little place in our stereotyped education, where everything is done. Fortunately, many educators are becoming enlightened enough and are attempting to correct some of these misconceptions. We need the opportunity to ask questions; to make statements without being laughed at; and to openly contribute in the classroom. If you have not been given that opportunity, I am truly sorry. However, the opportunity remains to begin anew. False planning and narrow goals can be discarded, and clarity and sincerity can replace them. You have many years ahead of you to complete your learning process, so why not begin now?

It is of little importance what field you have chosen to enter — many of you, I am sure, have not committed yourself to one choice, as of yet. Such a decision is too crucial to make hastily and there are so many options available to you. Many professions lack good people — teaching, medicine, the arts and social sciences. Each of these fields is available to you regardless of gender, race or economic background. So much needs to be accomplished in our world of today and there are too few willing and well qualified enough to do it. There are also many spots in vocational training open to you. Talented young men and women are urgently needed in the technical and vocational fields. And, some of you have much to offer with your interest and abilities in these areas.

Learning and absorbing knowledge are important to you, regardless of your short-range goals. Continued growth as individuals is not only necessary, but also essential. It is also necessary to seriously contemplate the path by which you will continue to grow and achieve in our world. Our world today is a complex place. Generations of the past have often possessed the credentials necessary for a position, but have lacked the knowledge or integrity required to make progress. They were unable to solve the many problems of our society because they had been “simply educated”, rather than truly learned and made aware. Many times, dishonesty and corruption come about because officials lack true wisdom in decision-making. Confusion and strife result from the failed abilities of our leaders, at all levels, to make wise decisions. We see this on the local, national and world stage on a daily basis.

You, as graduates, should prepare yourselves to become future parents, teachers, and leaders of our world. It will soon be your legal and more importantly, moral responsibility, and you must be ready when that time comes. There will be no more opportunity to pass the blame on to your parents, friends or others. Hopefully, each of you are building your lives so that we might find among you leaders capable of making intelligent, thoughtful and critical decisions. Those with this ability understand the distinction between truly learning and simply receiving an education and benefit from their true understandings.

Many of us fear the future because it is unknown. You wonder just what lies ahead for you, and if the hopes and dreams you now have will ever come true. Your futures look bright and secure. I know that you will be a credit to us and to our hopes for you. I hope we have helped you find some of the answers you have been seeking and that your education has not been an empty experience, but one that has enabled you. Good luck and best wishes to each of you.

Guest Speaker: Allan Jack

Good evening! It feels great to be back in a room full of Titans. I want to recognize our honoured guests and extend a warm hello to all the people attending tonight to support our graduating class.

There are several ideas I would like to share with you this evening as you move into a new chapter in your lives. Some of you are going to be continuing with your education while others will be entering the work force. I want to encourage you to find a job that is a real passion of yours. Some of you will be able to find this quickly, while for others it will be a search. It is a worthwhile search- so don't give up on your dream of finding something that creates a genuine passion in you.

I hope you reach out to the community and give something back to society. It may be serving meals to the homeless, working for the food bank, being a blood donor, or offering your skills on a community board to push forward an agenda for helping those in need. Each of you has tremendous potential to make a difference in the lives of others and I urge you to volunteer for a cause you believe in.

People of your age group have a tendency not to participate in the political process with just one in five people aged 18-20 voting. During the upcoming election attend a forum that allows you to listen to the debate.

What is important to you as a young Canadian? What kinds of programs do you want to see continue for you and your future families? These decisions cannot be left to people of my generation alone. You represent our future. So please get involved in the shaping of Canada. Something as simple as a vote, can help secure a Canada we are all proud to live in. Simply put: Don't let others create political decisions that impact you.

As I look around this room I see what makes Canada a remarkable nation: People from all over the world living here together and bringing their various skills and talents to our society. We have heard the term tolerance suggesting a way of dealing with our cultural mosaic. What I want you to do is not develop an attitude of tolerance but one of celebration. I have been fortunate enough to teach students from around the world. Some have come here and learned a new language, some have left their families behind, and tragically some have lost their families through war. They have shown me courage, determination, and above all success... not simply measured by an exam result but through things like confidence, personal growth, and a willingness to always, always give their best. My students have expected a great deal from themselves and by watching them they have encouraged me to always model myself after them and give my best too. Teaching has taught me as much as I have taught my students.

I have had many special moments in my career. Every student I taught had a gift or a talent that was not always displayed exclusively in the classroom. I have watched students excel on the football and soccer field, demonstrate incredible leadership skills on a camping trip, showcase a high level of musical talent and display an amazing mechanical aptitude as they repaired bikes along a mountain road miles from our next check stop. Continue to develop these skills and talents as they will bring you pleasure throughout your lifetime.

I would like to share two more thoughts before I let you get on with your special evening: One is about friendship. You have heard the old saying if you want a friend be a friend... and it is so true. If you find in your life you are at a stage where you can offer a hand to a friend- do it. Life has many twist and turns and the treasures along the pathway of life are the friends you make. Nurture the friendships you have made while attending Harry Ainlay for with them you have created many memories that you will fondly look back on in later years. The laughter, tears, frustration and successes you have experienced with a 'buddy' through these high school years have created a strong bond and a sense of 'history'.

Last, but certainly not least, be sure to keep in touch with your teachers and be a strong advocate for a quality, publicly funded education system.

It has been an honour for me to speak to you tonight and I thank you for this privilege. Remember, if you see me out and about, be sure to stop and share with me some new part of your life. I may have only taught you for a year or two but you will be in my heart forever.

Congratulations and good luck in your future endeavours.

"In Appreciation:" Maria Chen

High school- the place where we lived and learned for three years of our lives, where we faced personal challenges, tackled self-growth, built friendships, and developed our ideas for the future.

In a few short months, we will be heading out into the wide-open world, more than six hundred graduands ready and prepared to change what and whom we come into contact with.

How did we, once grade ten students who couldn't find our homerooms, become the brilliant women and men here today?

Though every one had a different Titan experience, and what each of us takes from Harry Ainlay immortalizes our distinct journeys, we all have certain people to thank.

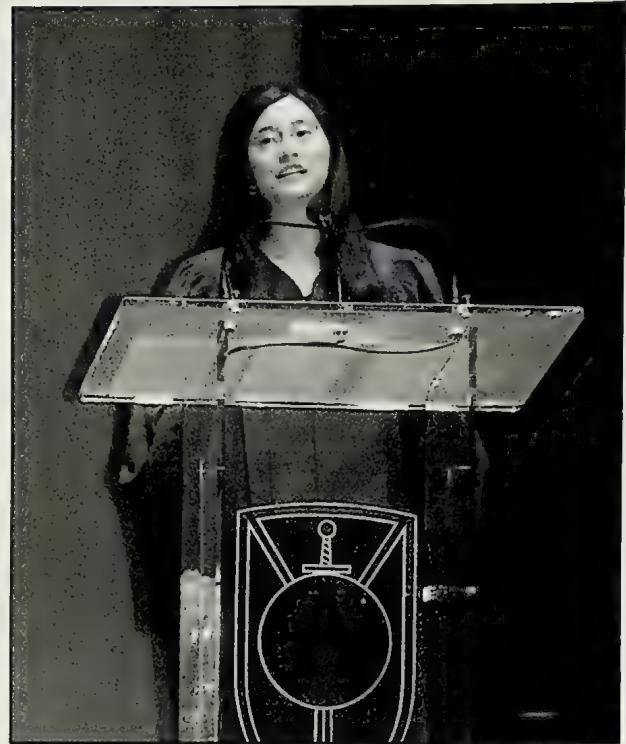

At first they were just the people standing at the blackboard, writing down more harrowing homework assignments for us to complete. But after a while, we began to learn more than the curriculum from them. We saw their patience in our classrooms day after day, we listened as they shared their life experiences as people, and we realized what real individuals they are. They are teachers, who have committed their lives to inspiring us to greater things, and most of whom are at school even earlier than we are in the mornings, unbelievably. They've taught us to plan, start small, reach high, be persistent. From sacred holders of our report-card marks to friends, we have gained lessons from them.

When we're late for school, who's yelling "Get up, sleepyhead!?" Who has panic attacks when we fail physics or do "interesting" things at school and get calls from the assistant-principal? Who proudly supports us at sporting events, or goes to School Meetings, or lends us a hand with our homework...that is, when they can? Our parents and guardians. During high school, they had to toe the delicate balance between holding our hands in support, and letting us grow on our own; our parents have often devoted to teaching us to became whole people. They've taught us to pick ourselves up when we fall, to deal with change, to be responsible. We've probably all had our share of great touching moments with them, and then...some less than great moments, but they have been the ones watching us grow over many, many years, and loved us all the while.

No school is school without the people around us. Any community is made up of the interactions of the people in it- the community of Harry Ainlay gave each of us the opportunity to meet multi-faceted and matchless people, people like us, people completely different from us. Our experiences have all included each other, some of who we have touched and some of who have touched us; whether it's with acquaintances or friends, the amazing conversations and discussions we've shared will stay with us, and (thank you, Eleanor Roosevelt) "will leave footprints in our hearts." They've taught us to be compromising, compassionate, forgiving, and thoughtful. Some of our peers became those precious few close friends, who helped us through our rainy days, others became a friendly face or a source of inspiring talks- no matter what, we owe so much to each other.

And yet, there is still someone so important in the big picture of our education and life- someone who worked through everything the absolute best they could, that we must take time to thank them. That person, whom we must never forget to thank, is ourselves. We were the ones who finally had to sit down and finish that history project, or wake up at the grueling morning hours of the day to get to school, or patch up a friendship after a disagreement, or volunteer at the hospital. We crafted our experiences, and

I know I am right when I say we each did a fantastic job.

Three years of our lives have been spent within the walls of Ainlay. We entered as children, but we leave as young adults, helped by many, whom we thank tonight. We will face challenges but we are prepared, with textbooks and life lessons and a better understanding; as Helen Keller said "I am not afraid of storms, for I am learning how to sail my ship."

I've heard it said an honest voice is better than a crowd -our six hundred plus voices will leave a beautiful permanent mark; our passion and action will stand us through time, no matter where we choose to go, no matter what we choose to do. Do not become complacent, do what you want to do, whether big or small. Tidy your room, go to law school, try your hand at cooking, find a part-time job, volunteer at a soup kitchen. The word "dream" is vague; we must give it definition. Start your own legacy.

So we do not reach the end, we reach the beginning of the rest of our lives...always as Titans.

Valedictorian Address: Peter Ao

Good evening, fellow Titans, parents, teachers, and honored guests....

Tonight, we are here to celebrate the culmination of all our efforts for the past three years at Harry Ainlay. Each of us has traversed a different path and each of us has faced many obstacles along the way. It hasn't been easy, but we made it. Over the past three years, each of us has developed in our own way. Whether it be scholarly success, artistic achievements, or athletic accomplishments, we each have excelled and the fact that we are all here today is a testament to that success.

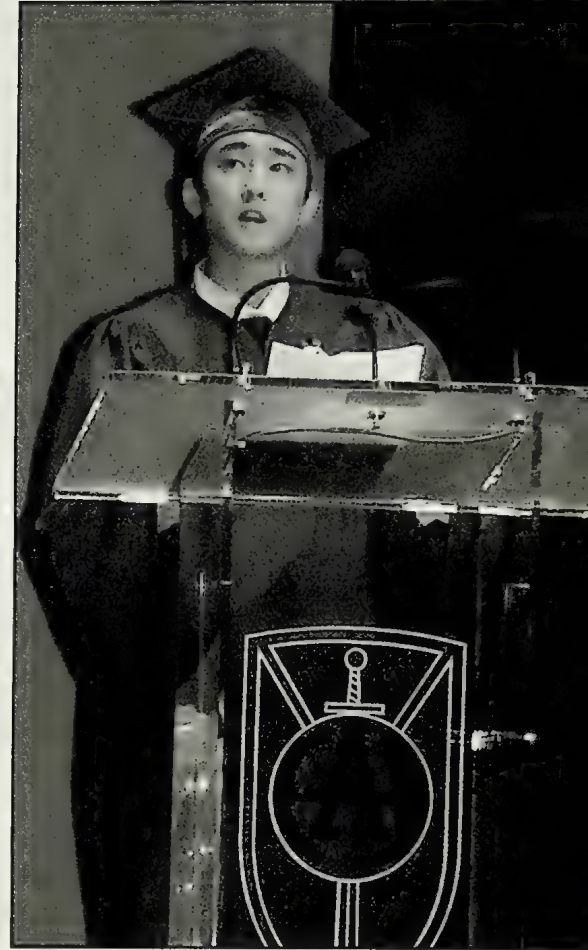

However, we did not reach our goals alone; we had much help along the way. It is important to recognize the people who have made significant impacts on our lives: our teachers, who nurture our development by acting as wealthy bastions of knowledge and insight, our friends, who have supported us in all our endeavors with many a reassuring smile, and our families, who have always been there for us, acting as an endless reservoir of hope and love. These people have helped to enrich our experiences and their indelible marks have forever improved our lives.

In grade 10, a teacher once told me to "savor the moment, cherish the instant, for time passes in the blink of an eye". Now, as I look out at the many familiar faces in crowd, I realize the veracity of that statement. In keeping with tonight's theme of "taking our memory and creating a legacy", I urge us all, at the end of this night, to reflect back on the many fond memories that we have kept and treasured throughout our years at Harry Ainlay. Relating to the legacy, well...we'll get to that later.

First, I would like to turn our attention away from this perfect and pristine evening and look at our not-so-perfect world. As we speak, thousands of people are dying either due to war, famine, or disease. The recent events this year have shown us that the world is far from the peaceful and prosperous haven that some of us might envision. While we have been blessed to live in a country full of social amenities such as potable water, electricity, and even basic life requirements such as food and shelter, others around the world are not so lucky. For instance, in Ethiopia right now, children cry day and night for scraps of food to ease their pangs of hunger, yet their poverty-stricken parents can only reply with silence, for them, food is not just a basic necessity but a luxury most can't afford. The recent events in Afghanistan and Iraq have shown us the havoc that war can wreak on humanity. This past April there have been 1,361 non-combatant casualties in Iraq, with the toll rising each day. Yet the true tragedy lies in the apathy and ignorance that exists in the world today, leaving countless human beings upon the precipice of life or death.

I have a confession to make. I was guilty of both apathy and ignorance in regards to the war in Iraq. Of course I would hear about the tragedies of war from TV and discuss them among my peers in history class, but the suffering of the babies without fathers, of the families torn apart by war, of the people too scared to leave their homes for fear of being caught in a gunfire...didn't seem real. I was protected from reality in my sheltered existence and could turn the channel when the images on TV became too painful to bear. Unfortunately, one of my closest friends was not so lucky; he has family in Iraq and everyday he would receive phone-calls in regards to a new source of conflict or another victim of the war. Through his sadness and grief, I was forced to look beyond my familiar borders and face reality for what it truly is. The misery of people in nations less privileged than ours is real, no matter how much we may want to believe otherwise. Just because we can turn our backs to the suffering of others, does not mean that it does not exist. The less we care, the less human we become.

The aforementioned legacy is not merely one by which your friends and associates will remember you. Instead, it is one by which the world will remember you. You have all been blessed with unique talents; high school has merely honed your skills and prepared you for the world. The legacy which you leave is up to you to decide, but I urge you to use your knowledge, your gifts, your abilities to improve the world we live in. How you do so is up to you to decide. It may seem like an insurmountable task, but every journey begins with a single step and yours has just begun. Perhaps that will be the best legacy of all.

Class Historians: Maggie & James

"Waiting for Graduation"

James Goodard and Maggie McCaw

James and Maggie enter stage each holding a microphone. Begin their speech.

Maggie: Hello. I'm Maggie and this is James. Good evening to you all. Parents, teachers, and friends: welcome.

James: We are your class historians of 2004. And it is our job to trace our way back through high school. It is a long road filled with memories.

M: We shall finally look back, together as a class over our time at Harry Ainlay.

J: It is hard to imagine it was only three years ago that we began high school. To some, it seems like an eternity. Days that would never end, weeks, months, and years.

M: But here we all are tonight. It's positively amazing.

J: We students can't take all the credit though. Our amazing teachers have never ceased impressing us with their extensive knowledge and expertise.

M: Indeed. And we cannot forget to thank our parents for their support, understanding, and willingness to help us when we needed it. They always have had the best intentions in mind.

J: Tonight we look back over our past three years at high school and we look ahead down the path of the future that holds endless possibilities...Hold on. Hold on.

James pulls Maggie aside. They awkwardly move to the side of the stage and turn their backs. This next section is said with their backs turned but still into their mics.

J: Maggie, you've got to be kidding me.

M: What?

J: "...the path of the future that holds endless possibilities..." Come on! You've GOT to be kidding me!

M: James. We've been working on the script for months. Don't you think it would have been smarter to voice your concerns about this a little earlier?

J: Yeah. But I didn't realize how stupid we sounded until I heard it just now.

M: Yeah. I suppose you're right. I think I saw someone snoring.

J: We need to do something before this gets boring.

M: I think you're right. But we better act now.

J: But to change the whole script...I've got to ask how?

M: Wait a minute!... that rhymed!

J: Huh?

M: I've got an idea.

Maggie whispers something to James.

J: It's worth a shot. Anything's better than this (referring to the script they were reading before)

Maggie and James return to the podium.

note: Maggie will read first two lines of every stanza, James will read the final two.

Hello everyone. We are back up here now to try this again with a little more...wow. Well, We're Class Historians to recount the days of our high school years...in a rhyming way.

First day of school, back in grade ten
It's hard to remember way back to then
When we were naive of what high school stored a mix of amazing, scary, and bored.

The questions flew through our grade-10-heads
But we braved the first day without fear instead.
We had problems finding our way around
There were halogens, but nary a window was found.

But we managed to last the entire ordeal without a cut nor a lesion that needed to heal.
And for the first day of school, we all headed back.
But I've got to admit that first day was whack.

Thankfully, though, we made it clear through
We knew the ropes and we knew what to do.
The next thing we knew, the Trade Centre went down.
There was a TV in the rotunda. We all gathered 'round.

A worldwide tragedy, who would have known,
could show us the school into which we'd been thrown.
We became a community tight-knit indeed with whom we would share the upcoming years three.

So, grade 10 went on and some parts were fun.
At the pep-rally Maren Ord sang some songs.
We had our first (and only) school dance where we gathered in the caf to twist, shout, and prance.

Then came grade 11. We came back to class.
We knew a lot about Ainlay, more than in the past.
We were no longer the youngest kids in the school.
Compared to grade 10, grade 11's were cool!
It was, indeed, a lot of hard work.

And we had responsibilities we could not shirk.

Some of our class went off to see Europe.

They had a great time, but missed Maple syrup.

So Grade 11 went on without much ado
the sun shone, the rain fell, and the snow, well, it snowed.

By summer we were all ready for a break for we knew grade 12 would not be pure cake.
We came back from the summer shiny and new
We now were grade 12's and could take over the school.

But the classes weren't easy, and the days were still long
And some of us sure couldn't wait to be gone.

This year went on with tons of excitement

Plus friendships grew even more tightment.

High school knowledge fills our brains

now we'll wait for summer, so it all can drain.

This year exams were extra high stress for they were diplomas, the biggest of tests.
Some are still to come in the near future
I hope I don't panic or have a nervous seizure.

[James is unable to make future and seizure rhyme]
M: Future, Seizure...it rhymes!

J: Oh...well...

M: Ugh! Now you've ruined it!

J: I wouldn't go as far as saying that.

M: People are going to think we're ridiculous.

J: Aren't we?

M (shakes head): Well now you've got to fix this.

J: I know start the drum, I've got some free verse...

M: NO! Anything but that!

J: Hmm, well I could tell a story. You know something anecdotal, a little tale from the past.

M: all right this might work.

J: Oh it will. It's got everything Sex, Drugs, Rock'n'Roll.
It all starts...

M: James, um, you can't say that.

J: Why not?

M: Well... I don't think it's appropriate.

J: Why it's an accurate representation of my high school experience. Perhaps with a bit less profanity, can't swear on stage you know.

M: Oh my gosh...

J: It's the truth my life's like a rap song.

[insert ad-lib rap by James here]

M (exasperated): JAMES I thought you were gonna fix this. All you've done is make it worse.

J: I guess I did get a little off track.

M: No kidding.

J: Well you see...

M: I don't want to know.

J: But...

M: No

J: well

M: No... We need something about the school and our time here. Like the three TVT opening ceremonies. People sing, cheer, guest hosts come in from radio stations, and the Ainlay teams make fools out of themselves every year with their token dance as the finale.

J: all right, all right. So perhaps something about our brilliant sports teams. We got basketball, volleyball, football, cheer teams, swim team. And my personal favourite the interpretive dance team.

M: We don't have an interpretive dance team.

J: Oh. Well we should.

M: You really need to cut this out. All these people want us to be class historians not whatever it is you're doing.

J: Okay give me one more chance.

M: fine.

J: Well there was this one time my friend Mike and I were walking to Southgate after school. As we were walking along the fence there I look down and...lo and behold I find 5 dollars. Then Mike looks down and he too finds 5 dollars.

M: James...that was really lame. And it's completely irrelevant to anyone but you!

J: Haha. And the person who lost ten bucks!

M: Ugh. Why don't you try mentioning something that happened to all of us...like touch of Class.

J: Oh! Or like TVT?

M: Yes. Or Code-red-lock-down

J: Yeah. Gotta love Code Red Lock Down.

M: Or teachers' strike

J&M: "Solidarity forever..."

M: "...solidarity forever, the union makes us strong!"

J: Maggie!

M: Sorry... Or Tri-prov

J: Cheerleading try-outs

M: speech tournaments

J: Chess tournaments

M: Decade days.

J: Yeah that was a strange one from SU...whatever happened to 80's day though?

M: They heard Josh was gonna wear his ugly green blazer and they all ran away.

J: Haha. Math 20

M: Social 30

J: Drama 10

J&M: CALM 20 [shudder]

J: Character Ed.

M: Oh, man, Character Ed.

J: I wish I could say what I think about Character Ed but I think it said "Do not Swear" on one of the posters...

M: Yep. Right under "Flush the toilet" and "wash your hands".

J: It goes hand in hand with the new reading and writing focus...I can say my ABC's and I have good manners... [James places a baby soother into his mouth]

M: music concerts

J: Drama productions

M: track meets

J: Comm-tech

M: Mr. Matichuk's finger

J: Uh, I don't think that counts as an event at Ainlay.

M: Why not? I think it was a pretty pivotal moment for Mr. Matichuk. I mean, jeez, he lost a limb!

J: Technically, a finger's not a limb.

M: Fine. But you see my point.

J: Sure.

M: Art shows!

J: Origami club

M: Jazz choir

J: Did you know they started conscripting guys to sing, I was conscripted ...

M: yeah and then they heard you sing...

J: Jazz Band

M: Frankfurt exchange

J: Yamate exchange

M: Phys Ed

J: Song for a Dark Queen

M: Midsummer Night's Dream

J: Under Milkwood

M: Titan Cup

J: School reach

M: Grad committee

J: We have the grad committee to thank for putting us up here tonight.

M: Yeah. So don't blame us, blame Grad Committee!

J: Students' union

M: Karaoke

J: Bull riding in the rotunda

M: Ping-pong in the art gallery

J: Automotives

M: Art and design

J: Drafting

M: Scuba Club. Hey weren't you president of the scuba club?

J: Uh yeah let's go on... umm Walks to Southgate...

M: No no wait what ever happened to the Scuba Club?

J: Rather not talk about it.

M: No tell me let's hear it.

[James whispers to Maggie]

M: You did what? You single-handedly destroyed the Scuba Club! hahahahaha. How did you manage that, even I could organize a club.

J: I said I didn't want to talk about it.

M: hahahaha.. oh...Speak Out...hahahaha

J: Shut up. ...Those landmine posters

M: Pottery class

J: Chemistry labs (shudder)

M: Bio labs (shudder)

J: Physics labs (shudder)

M: Math contests

J: Math tutors

M: Math help at lunchtimes

J: I went there once

M: Really?

J: Yeah they said sorry and that I knew so little math that there was no hope for me.

M: French gala

J: Model UN

M: Mock trials

J: Song for a Dark Queen

M: Midsummer Night's Dream

J: Under Milkwood

M: Volleyball

J: Golf team

M: Rugby

J: Wrestling

M: Football

J: Swimming

M: Hockey.

J: We don't have a hockey team.

M: I know. I was talking about the Canadian Olympic hockey teams. When they both won gold at the olympics!

J: Yeah!

M: Yeah!

J: Culture fest

M: Titan friends

J: Titans International

M: One acts

[pause]

M: I guess that's it.

J: IT?

M: Well I can't think of much more.

J: oh...

M: you're crying!

J: No I'm not.

M: Well I'll be! James is crying. I thought you weren't gonna get all emotional.

J: Well I can't help it.

M: Come on James. It's okay.

J: sob

M: We're gonna go now. James needs to recuperate. But before we go, I'd like to sincerely say thank you.

J: Thank you, teachers.

M: Thank you parents and guardians.

J: Thank you friends.

M: Thank you Ainlay!

J: Good night. We will remember

M: I hope we'll meet again.

Trustee: Mr. G.P. Nicholson

Good evening graduands, staff, parents, friends and special guests. It is always a pleasure for me to be around the students and staff of Harry Ainlay for any reason. Tonight I am here to bring greetings from the Board of Trustees of Edmonton Public Schools. "Taking our memories ... creating a legacy" is the theme you have chosen for your graduation. I was principal at Harry Ainlay from 1984 to 1992, and have wonderful memories of that period of my life.

I realize that those of you graduating tonight were just starting school as I was retiring. Although much has changed during those twelve years, much has stayed the same. Ainlay is still graduating students who turn into kind, caring and responsible citizens — the kind of people who will, in fact, create a legacy.

Harry Ainlay, himself, was that kind of person. He inspired many young people in his years as a teacher and principal. He had an impact on the development of our city during his time as alderman and mayor. My mother told me years ago that ... "We all leave footprints in the sand; the question is, will it be an impression of a big heel or a great soul?" Harry Ainlay was a great soul. Not surprisingly, one of the outstanding features of his namesake school is its strong focus on character education.

Along with your studies, you have been developing the virtues of respect, responsibility, honesty, forgiveness, fairness and integrity. These are important qualities to demonstrate in your life, if the legacy you wish to create is that of a great soul.

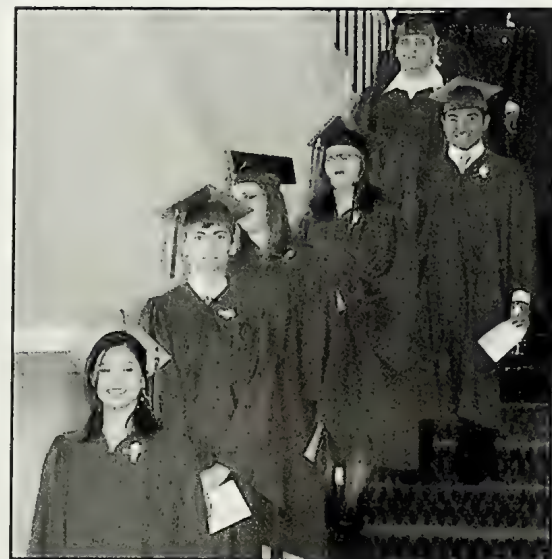

Ensure that your memories are the key— not to the past — but to the future. I trust the memories you have acquired during your high school years at Harry Ainlay have reinforced these values. I hope these memories will continue to guide you as you make choices and decisions in the future.

Samuel Johnson observed that ... "The true art of memory is the act of attention." I urge you to pay attention to the people around you and to the world around you. If you are paying attention, you will treat others and the environment with respect. You will accept responsibility for your actions. You will be honest, and fair, and forgiving. You will be in touch with yourself and others and will live with integrity.

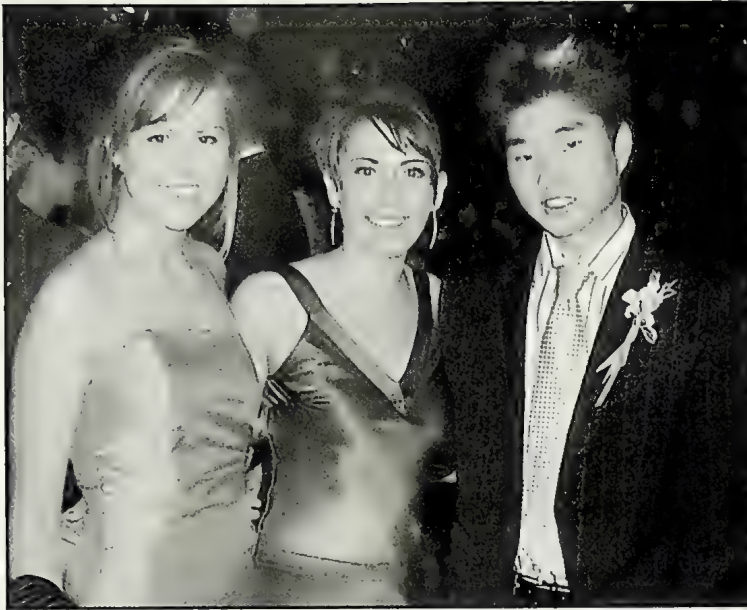

Ralph Waldo Emerson provided sage advice to all of us when he observed... "We should not follow where the path may lead. Go, instead, where there is no path, and leave a trail."

On behalf of the Board of Trustees, congratulations to all of you as you take your memories, follow your dreams and create a legacy which will benefit our city, our province and our nation.

I would be remiss if I did not remind you of George Bernard Shaw's admonition... "Always do right. This will please some of the people and astonish the rest."

Titan's Timeline

September

02. 2003. As always, Titans started the year off with the always fascinating experience of Registration (A.K.A Line-Waiting 101). For the grade 10's, there was the added bonus of the Link Crew Orientation.

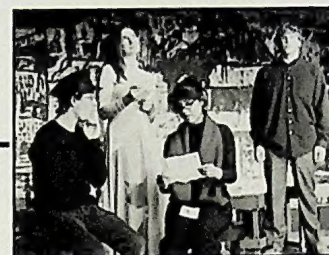

05. 2003. Titans showed their school spirit with Ainlay's annual school pep rally (complete with free food!)

11-12. 2003. American musical legend Johnny Cash and Canadian actor John Ritter passed away within 10 hours of each other.

January

08. 2004. Cold enough for ya? Us Titans escaped the chill by creating our own (indoor) tropical paradise, complete with leis and a tiki bar. Aloha, Ainlay!

22-29. 2004. For grade tens, January held an ominous prospect: EXAMS (Ok, so it was equally ominous for the rest of us!) Luckily, we studied hard and came out ahead.

October

02. 2003. This year was the second annual Oktoberfest, complete with the obligatory pretzel-eating contests, ethnic dancing, and fashion show! Ausgezeichnet!

09-11, 17-18. 2003. Ainlay's famous Titan Volleyball Tournament wrapped up another year, with the Senior Women taking gold; Senior Men fighting hard for bronze and ultimately coming in fourth, and junior women winning silver.

31. 2003. Boo! On Halloween, "Scary Ainlay" was overrun with tricks and treats, as well as a host of interesting characters at the annual Halloween Fashion Show

28-30. 2003. Once again, our bands and choirs deserted us in favour of the annual three-day Nakamun band camp.

December

05. 2003. The Drama department put on another fabulous major production, this time Under Milkwood.

03-15, 2003. Titans donated non-perishable goods, and money for turkeys, to make someone's Christmas a little brighter, during the annual food bank and turkey drive. And once again, the Ainlay Ambassadors raised money through carolling.

04. 2003. Students and staff alike showed their style and were treated to a day that had a Touch of Class.

November

05. 2003. Students of all grades asked questions, got answers, and expanded their horizons at Ainlay's annual Post Secondary Night.

07-08, 22. 2003. The season for the Senior and Junior Men's football teams ended victoriously, with the Junior Men scoring the title of city champions and both teams showing amazing character and determination.

10. 2003. The day before Remembrance Day, ceremonies were held throughout the world, "Titans Remember"ed, and took initiative in selling poppies, raising awareness, and expressing gratitude to our World War veterans.

12. 2003. Paul Martin officially accepts the position of Deputy Prime Minister, and the challenge of an eighteen-month election campaign, as PM Jean Chretien resigns after three terms in office.

14-15. 2003, Senior Men and Women, and Junior Men picked up the gold at the volleyball city championships; Senior Women went on to capture the provincial silver.

17-20. 2003. Ainlay's spirit has always been a multicultural one, and this year's International Languages Week was no exception. Titans enjoyed food and culture from Spain, Germany, Japan, and France.

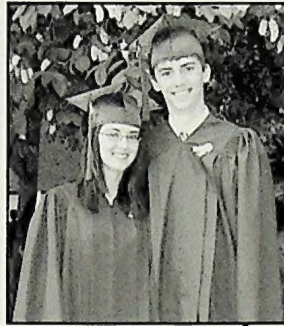

June

10. 2004. The Grade 10 and 11 Awards Ceremony truly showed our school's motto: In All Things, Excellence.
07-25. 2004. Exams ended another great year-but last minute cramming (and loitering) always makes for memorable bonding. Till next year, Ainlay!

February

10. 2004. Shelia Fraser makes her findings about the Federal Sponsorship Scandal public.
06-07, 12-14. 2004. Tri-Prov wrapped up another year with our Senior Women and Men stealing gold and silver, respectively.
25. 2004. The Titan Cheerleading Team brought home another gold from city championships.

May

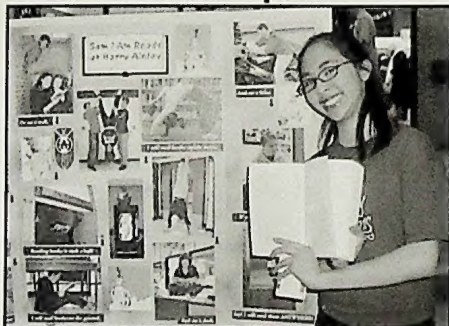

07-08. 2004. The Ainlay Badminton team brought home their first ever 4A provincial gold.
20. 2004. One year has passed since a single case of BSE in a Canadian cow closed the U.S borders to our beef. They remain closed.
22, 28. 2004. Seniors were let loose on the world (barring exam failure, of course) with the Graduation commencement ceremony and banquet.

March

04. 2004. During the Ainlay Open House, dutiful student and staff volunteers worked after-hours to recruit next year's victims...err, students.
05-06, 18-20. 2004. After losing cities after an 11-year winning streak, our Senior Women's basketball team went on to win provincial gold! Junior Women and Men also picked up gold at cities.
06. 2004. Titans brought home bronze at cheerleading provincial championships.
11. 2004. Terrorist bombings in Madrid, Spain leave over 190 casualties, and hundreds more injured. Terrorists are accused of having links to Al-Qaeda, a terrorist organization.
20. 2004. The one-year anniversary of the United States' unauthorized invasion of Iraq, resulting in more than a year of death, fear and chaos.
27-April 03. 2004. Adventurous IB and drama students made lasting memories living it up in the Big Apple.

April

04. 2004. The City of Champions hosted the annual Canadian Juno awards!
07, 14, 21, 28. 2004. The activities of Decades Month included a fifties "Soda Shoppe", a "Guess that Beatles Tune" ompetition, costumes, karaoke, and in general, just a lot of fun.
13-30. 2004. Drama 30's directed fantastic One-Acts, for all to enjoy, in Ainlay's annual One Act play festival.
14-18. 2004. Bandies made an all-day bus ride down to Seattle, for fish, fun, and sun (and also, some music!)
26-30. 2004. Fierce campaigns for Student Union elections resulted in, among other things, the election of Serena Cheung as Ainlay's 2004-2005 president.

Final Thoughts Mr. K. Wright Yearbook Advisor

The 2003 - 2004 school year has been truly amazing. As Yearbook advisor I have had the pleasure of attending many of the Ainlay events or viewing the images after the event has ended. The combined efforts of the talented students and staff has resulted in a book packed full of a year's worth of fascinating images. Titan spirit is evident throughout these pages. This year we had a team of four senior editors, a managing editor (Laurence Jayawardane) and 20 additional yearbook staff who have collectively contributed 1500 volunteer hours to create this book. The dedication of the yearbook staff from September 1st to June 29th has been truly remarkable. The staff worked after final exams to finish off the remaining pages working right up to the school's closing on June 29th. In addition to the yearbook staff, teachers and support staff contributed by providing write-ups, photographs and helping with large amounts of typed information. Thanks to all of the people for making the Titan Tradition Yearbook a way to "Take Our Memories and Create a Legacy." As the last pages are shipped off to be printed, the sun is shining, the wind is blowing and I am going sailing. Bon Voyage - to all. Mr. Wright

Editor's Note

Laurence: My experience as yearbook editor sure is one I will not forget! After many hours of fun and work, we finally finished this year's Titan Tradition yearbook. Thanks to all the yearbook staff for your help, you made it all possible!

Indira: I can't begin to describe how amazing it has been having the opportunity to design this year's yearbook. Commitment and gratitude are two virtues that I have learned and achieved. Thank to all my fellow yearbook editors and members. We did it!!

Anushka: The last two years working on the yearbook have flown by. I am amazed at all that I have learned while producing two yearbooks. The close friendships that I have developed with my fellow yearbook editors and staff will live on in my heart.

Vincky: Yearbook has been a class in itself by teaching me time management, group work, photography, and how to capture one's memories. I hope this 208-page memoir of our high school life will be cherished.

Giovanna: My commitment to Student Union this year has often kept me away from the yearbook but I have worked on pages whenever my schedule has allowed. Great people, great fun, and a great book!
